House Passes Excess Profits Tax Measure By 325-77 Vote

President Gets Biggest Victory In Bitter Fight

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP) —The House today overwhelmingly passed President Eisenhower's long embattled proposal to extend the excess profits tax—handing the President his biggest victory yet in Congress.

In the showdown, administration forces piled up a roll-call vote of 325 to 77 for the measure. It now goes to the Senate, where early approval is expected.

Ends Week Of Fighting

The final triumph in the House came after weeks of fierce backstage maneuvers in which rebellious Republicans on the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee had blocked action, temporarily threatening the President with a major defeat.

Voting for the bill today were 169 Republicans and 156 Democrats. Against it were 38 Republicans, 38 Democrats and 1 Independent.

The bill revives the tax, which expired June 30, and continues it to next Jan. 1. Under it the government takes up to 82 per cent of corporation profits above those established under the law as "normal."

Eisenhower, although conceding the tax was unfair and penalized small and growing concerns, urged the extension to raise an estimated 800 million dollars in revenue.

Republican leader Halleck of Indiana told the House, capping five hours of often fiery debate, that this was a keystone in the administration's program to reduce federal deficits and restore "financial solvency" in government.

Calls White House Dictators

Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) of the Ways and Means Committee, fighting to the end, said passage would be a congressional surrender to White House dictation.

Reed insisted the Republican party, including the President, had pledged tax reduction instead of tax increases. He appealed to the House to "keep faith with the American people."

Halleck retorted that the administration had not promised to cut taxes at the expense of "financial responsibility and a balanced budget."

'Convulsion' Sweeps Russia Says Dulles

Big Three Talks Begin In Washington

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles opened the Big Three foreign ministers conference today by declaring the Kremlin purge of Lavrenty Beria shows that "a very convulsion is sweeping Russia."

"We meet at the time of great opportunity," he declared in welcoming French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and acting British Foreign Minister Lord Salisbury.

"Within Russia itself, Beria, a leader and symbol of the police state, is himself put under arrest. A new convulsion is under way."

Shows Inherent Weakness

Dulles asserted that Beria's sudden elimination shows "inherent weakness" within Russia even though Communist rule may remain and "continue to threaten" the Western world.

Dulles spoke out a few hours after summoning the American ambassador to Moscow, Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen, home for urgent consultation on the situation in Russia.

Bohlen "foresaw and reported the probable elimination of Beria," according to a State Department announcement. In view of this, Dulles has ordered him to fly to Paris where he has been since July 8.

State Department officials said Bohlen left Moscow July 6 and headed for Paris in order to be ready for a quick flight home if Beria was purged, as he expected.

In his opening remarks, Dulles called on his British and French colleagues to "be alert to create, to find and seize every opportunity" arising from the dramatic developments within Russia.

Freedom In The Air

"We meet at a time of great opportunity," he declared. "In East Berlin, East Germany and othe. satellite areas the people are moved by a new hope.

"Freedom is again in the air. Free elections is the slogan which now captures the imagination of the captive peoples."

Although the Russian picture dominated the informal conference agenda, also scheduled for top-level discussion were political problems involving Indochina, Germany, Atlantic defenses and Middle East issues.

Ike Offers Food To Aid Starved East Germans

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP) —President Eisenhower tonight challenged Russia to accept American food to help feed the hungry, rebellious people of Soviet-controlled East Germany.

In a dramatic stroke — designed to seize the initiative at a time when Russia is torn by strife in the Kremlin itself and facing bitter unrest in the satellite countries—the President laid the offer directly on Moscow's doorstep.

If Russia accepts, the whole world will note that it took American food to help feed a Communist-run country. If the Soviets refuse, the hungry East Germans and other Moscow-dominated peoples may wonder at the humanitarianism of the Kremlin.

The President said in a note to Moscow that the United States is offering 15 million dollars worth of food to the East Germans and is ready to start delivering it "immediately."

The food would be chiefly grain, sugar, lard, soybean oil and some other commodities needed in the hunger - pinched East zone of occupied Germany.

Eisenhower's move capped mounting suggestions in Congress for "positive action" to wrest the initiative from Russia in the East-West cold war, particularly now that the Soviet hierarchy has been shaken by the firing of Russia's No. 2 man in the Kremlin, Lavrenty P. Beria, head of the Soviet secret police.

The President's move recalled his election campaign pledge last year to work by every peaceful means for the liberation of the captive peoples behind the Iron Curtain.

It was also a step in line with his repeated declarations of hope for re-uniting Germany, split into two hostile zones since the end of World War II.

Four-Year-Old Girl Has Heart Ailment

INDIANAPOLIS, July 10 (AP) —Sheila Whitehead arrived by ambulance at Riley Hospital today to see whether surgeons can fix her oversize heart so she can play like other children.

Public donations began to roll in at Jeffersonville, Ind., for the 4-year-old after her divorced mother, Mrs. Hazel Whitehead, 29, said she couldn't pay for expensive surgery. She said doctors told her the girl might not live till her fifth birthday unless the heart condition is corrected.

Doctors at Riley expect a week or more may be required to give Sheila a complete examination and various tests.

Oregon Felons Stage Prison Sit Down

SALEM, Ore., July 10 (AP) —More than 1,100 convicts at the Oregon State Penitentiary went on a sit-down strike today, refusing to work until a list of demands presented to Warden Clarence T. Gladden had been met.

Gladden said the men were "not particularly disorderly." They were milling about in a recreation area inside the walls.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 10 (AP) —Gov. William B. Umstead today appointed Alton A. Lennon, 46, Democrat, of Wilmington, as North Carolina's junior U. S. Senator. Lennon succeeds the late Willis Smith (D-NC), who died June 26.

Umstead said he will certify his appointment of Lennon, a former that he will take his seat as soon as possible. state Senator, to the secretary of the Senate "without delay" and

Ike Promises Federal Help For Drought-Stricken Texas

AMARILLO, Tex., July 10 (AP) —President Eisenhower today told a sweating, cheering crowd of ranchers and farmers that the full assets of the federal government would be mobilized to help them in their plea for aid because of long and bitter drought.

In a ten-minute appearance before a crowd which had come to tell six Southwest governors their ideas for drought relief, the President promised":

"And we will not dilly dally about it."

The President said he wanted to assure the people that the federal government was not concerned only with Washington, and New York cities, but with the whole "United States of America and every man, woman and child in it."

"We want to work with you on this problem," he told nearly 3,000 persons who crowded into the hot and muggy City Auditorium.

"I came here with no magic formula," the President said, "to talk to the governors of the drought-stricken Southwestern states." He said he had talked to the governors, listened to them.

"I find even here there is no unanimity of opinion as to what is the best way to aid drought-stricken peoples," he said. But he said there was agreement that aid should be on a "let's do it now" basis.

Flashing a broad grin, the President said he was pleased to report that minor differences had been worked out between House and Senate bills for drought aid and that the bill "would be ready for signing in the morning."

Reds Begin Far Flung Beria Purge

All-Out Efforts To Brand Soviet Leader As Traitor

LONDON, July 10 (AP)—The Kremlin's far-flung propaganda machinery bore down bitterly tonight with the tag "foul enemy of the Soviet people" for Lavrenty P. Beria, the ousted ex-purgemaster and No. 2 Soviet.

The job was to sell the Soviet, satellite and captive millions in the uneasy Communist empire on that idea that he was indeed a traitor as charged.

Throughout the Soviet Union—from the Asian maritime provinces to the restive European Ukraine—Red propagandists whipped up the attack on Beria through radio, newspapers and indignation mass meetings.

Broadcast Accounts

Moscow radio in foreign language broadcasts beamed accounts of "Beria's criminal anti-party and anti-state activities" to the straining East European satellite countries. They had felt the lash of Beria's secret police system.

The Communist party Central Committee's official Beria communique was reprinted in dozens of dialects in newspapers read by minority peoples of the Soviet republics.

Moscow radio spoke of "enthusiasm and tempestuous prolonged applause" with which Russian mass meetings greeted the announcement of Beria's downfall.

The Kremlin sent Communist party officials into Moscow's huge automobile factory to lecture to thousands of workers on the official reasons for the purge of Stalin's old comrade-in-arms.

The radio reported messages from all parts of the Soviet Union are pouring into Moscow endorsing the case against Beria.

Struggle For Power

In keeping with the new Soviet policy against hero worship—none for Stalin or anyone else—the propaganda torrent of the last drama-packed 24 hours has made little or no mention of the remaining members of the former triumvirate: Premier Georgi Malenkov and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Meanwhile in Western Europe diplomats speculated that the purge of Beria had opened a naked struggle for power in the Kremlin but had not changed Russia's softer-looking foreign policies.

Most observers in the chancelleries of Britain and the continent were chary of commenting on the fall of the chilly-eyed police czar, who presumably is doomed to be shot as a traitor. But the first reactions were along these lines:

Premier Georgi Malenkov and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov teamed up against Beria, the third member of the triumvirate.

"Now, what is to become of Molotov?" asked Maurice Faure, vice chairman of the French National Assembly's Foreign Affairs Committee. But ever since Stalin's death Sir Alvary Gascoigne, British ambassador in Moscow, has been tipping Molotov as the likely big boss.

Continue Program

The Russians may be expected to continue their program of conciliatory gestures in foreign affairs. What has become known as their "peace offensive" has continued in the last two weeks even though Beria may have been in eclipse all that time.

The bosses of the Kremlin probably will go on trying to destroy the god-myth of Stalin. The liquidation of Beria and his cronies will be used by Malenkov to disassociate his regime from the odium of forced labor camps and police terror.

Peron's Party Presented Horses

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, July 10 (AP) — The Peronista party presented thoroughbred riding horses today to President Juan D. Peron and his guest here on a state visit, President Carlos Ibanez of Chile.

The Chilean President and Peron were serenaded also by a group of gauchos—Argentine cowboys—in festivities at the Chilean Embassy.

President Ibanez signed an economic accord with Argentina here earlier this week.

He said the outside tire exploded, wedging his arm between the rim and inside tire.

Foreign Aid Funds Limit Agreed Upon

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—Senate-House conferees today agreed to set a limit of $5,157,232,500 in military and economic aid to 60 foreign countries described by the Eisenhower administration as needing U. S. help to keep some of them from falling into the Soviet orbit.

The compromise version, settling differences between separately passed Senate and House bills, would authorize $316,767,500 less than President Eisenhower originally requested.

However, the total may be cut still further when the Senate and House pass appropriations bills providing the actual money.

The present measure merely authorizes the continuation of the foreign aid program—and sets a ceiling on its cost—for the next 12 months.

While the conferees met, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told the Senate Appropriations Committee that foreign aid should be "a rapidly declining thing," but he declared:

"I think it would be very foolish of you to take a broad axe and cut off a billion dollars."

Humphrey made the comment in reply to a question by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) on what would happen if Congress whacked a billion dollars off the program.

Demands for further slashes arose on both sides of Capitol Hill despite a plea by Secretary of State Dulles yesterday that any substantial reductions might cause the entire Mutual Security program to "collapse."

Dulles contended that without adequate U. S. aid, some free nations would fall easy prey to Soviet pressure.

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate Appropriations Committee told newsmen his group is "not going to scuttle the foreign aid program," but he said the administration will have to justify every item down to the last dollar.

The Senate had voted to authorize $5,318,000,000; the House $4,998,000,000. Eisenhower had requested $5,474,000,000.

Elizabeth Ends Tour Of Wales

LLANGOLLEN, North Wales, July 10 (AP) — Queen Elizabeth finished her coronation tour of Wales today on an international note.

She called late in the day at a great cross-shaped tent on a hilltop where 1,500 Welshmen and their friends were singing their hearts out at their Eisteddfod, the annual music festival which is a famous Welsh institution.

The Queen, in a light blue dress, entered the tent with the Duke of Edinburgh and was welcomed by singers of 10 nations, including the United States.

The choir, thrown together for the greeting, was composed of singers from Wales and England, Austria, Canada, France Germany, Italy, Norway, Spain, Switzerland and America. About 4,000 heard the choir.

Demo Members Of Senate Probe Committee Resign

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—Democrats angrily resigned in a body today from the Senate Investigations subcommittee because Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis) had been given complete power to hire and fire staff members.

Senators McClellan (D-Ark), Jackson (D-Wash) and Symington (D-Mo) issued a "strong protest" that they have been put in "the impossible position of having responsibility without any voice, right or authority."

Accepts Resignations

A possibility arose that other Democrats might refuse to serve on the subcommittee whose investigations of alleged communism and subversion have touched off repeated controversies.

"I will accept the resignations," McCarthy told reporters. "If they don't want to take part in uncovering the graft and corruption of the old Truman-Acheson administration, they are, of course, entitled to refuse."

Certainly, he said, the subcommittee will continue to function whether or not it has any Democratic members.

The mass resignation, he said, "would appear to be a continuation of the old Democratic policy of either rule or ruin."

Matthews Erupts Fight

The party fight erupted around J. B. Matthews, the subcommittee's resigned chief of staff—a target of President Eisenhower, congressional, and religious leaders for having written a magazine article charging the Portestant clergy is infested with Reds.

Matthews' resignation was accepted yesterday after Democrats led a battle for his ouster and McCarthy claimed he alone had the power to hire and fire staff workers.

Which Twin Has Charm?

ATLANTA, July 10 (AP) — Which twin swallowed the charm?

Grady Hospital physicians said last night that 4-year-old Patresa Lorena Burtz has the peanut machine souvenir in her tummy. But Mrs. William Burtz, the mother, said she wasn't sure whether it was Patresa or Thresa Lee. The little blond, blue-eyed girls are identical twins.

Mrs. Burtz, said Patresa — she thinks — reported last night that "Trisa (sic) swallowed a football."

"She had it tied around her neck," Mrs. Burtz said. "Apparently she broke the string and put the charm in her mouth."

Doctors said the quarter - sized Indian head trinket should pass naturally.

The twins have caused other problems.

Shortly after birth, Mrs. Burtz said, one twin became ill. "I could not tell them apart, so for a time the well baby got the medicine and the sick one did without."

Sometimes the wrong one gets spanked too, she added.

Flash Forest Fire Snuffs Out Lives Of 15 Fighters

WILLOWS, Calif., July 10 (AP) —Seething billows of flames from a flash forest fire snuffed out the lives of 15 men last night as they scrambled through tangled brush of a canyon floor attempting to outrun the blaze.

The fire fighters died between the narrow walls of a canyon in Mendocino National Forest, about 30 miles northwest of Willows and 110 air miles north of San Francisco.

Fourteen of the victims were members of New Tribes Mission, a zealous missionary group whose existence has been plagued by tragedy.

The other was Forest Ranger Robert Powers who was directing the fire fighters in what appeared to be a routine job against a minor forest blaze.

Only nine in the fire fighting unit of 24 escaped.

At about 10 o'clock last night the men working under Powers' direction sat down to eat their rations. The fire seemed to be under control.

Then with devastating speed tragedy struck the canyon.

Charles J. Gleeson, in a copyrighted account in the Willows Journal, said the fire flamed up with explosive speed. Ranger Charles Lafferty, witnessing the flareup from a canyon wall, sped down to the group of men and told them to race for their lives.

Bob Werner, a forestry man, said the 15 clawed their way through scraggle brush for almost 10 minutes. Then the raging flames caught them, seared them and plunged beyond them.

The nine who escaped owe their lives to the fact they were on the sides of the canyon instead of in the draw.

The bodies were recovered quickly, but the fire ranged out of control. By mid-day it had covered 1,100 acres. There were 170 men on the lines today and 325 more were coming from other national forests.

Truce Teams Again Meet At Panmunjom

Official Comment On Progress Is Noticeably Lacking

PANMUNJOM, Saturday, July 11 (AP)—United Nations and Communist truce delegates meet again today only a few hours after Washington sources reported substantial progress toward erasing South Korean opposition to an armistice.

The delegates' announcement that they would confer at 11 a.m. (9 p.m., EST, Friday) was the only official word to come out of their 29-minute meeting yesterday, the first since June 20.

Taking the limelight for the moment from the truce negotiations was the U. S. diplomatic tussel with President Syngman Rhee, stubborn opponent of a truce that would leave Korea divided with Chinese Red troops in North Korea.

Could Reach Agreement

Washington informants said Rhee and U. S. Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson, President Eisenhower's special envoy in the critical, secret talks, could nail down an agreement if the 78-year-old Rhee did not again change his mind.

But in Seoul a South Korean, who is close to Rhee's side in the talks with Robertson, said "I believe it would be correct to say there has been some progress but no agreement."

Such a cautious statement has been the tenor of the scanty public announcements made by Robertson or Rhee's men since the talks started June 25.

The U. S. Embassy at Seoul contacted shortly after midnight on the Washington report, refused to comment on progress of the talks.

In Washington, some U. S. officials said the Rhee-Robertson understanding amounted to an agreement. But others, pointing to Rhee's past changes of mind on the issue of truce co-operation, said only a signing would make it conclusive.

Robertson and Rhee met Thursday but held no session Friday.

Broadcasts Editorial

Peiping radio, broadcasting an editorial from the People's Daily, the Communist party mouthpiece, continued its demands that the U. N. put hobbles on Rhee if the Allies want an armistice soon. This is believed to have been the line taken by Red negotiators at Friday's truce meeting.

The Communists blew up after Rhee in mid-June ordered his Republic of Korea guards to release 27,000 anti-Red North Korean war prisoners. Rhee's act abruptly halted processing work on a truce agreement that was near the signing stage.

An agreement with Rhee would permit U. N. truce negotiators to assure the Reds that South Korea would comply with armistice terms.

Project Collapse Kills One Man

SCARSDALE, N. Y., July 10 (AP) —A section of a large office building project collapsed as flooring was poured on the fourth story late today, apparently killing one workman and trapping more than a dozen others under tons of wet, fast hardening concrete.

Policemen, firemen and residents of this upper class residential community joined in a desperate fight to free the workmen before the concrete hardened.

Police said 13 men were trapped by the collapse. Rescue workers said one was believed dead.

Approximately 350 persons, many of them volunteers, joined in the tense fight against time—witnesses said the concrete was fast hardening.

The collapse occurred as the workmen poured concrete on the fourth floor of the office building. The cave-in area measured about 30 feet square.

John Scott, doorman at the apartment building across the street, said he was looking on when "a bunch of workmen just kind of fell from sight."

He said the collapse apparently carried to either the first floor or the basement.

The collapse occurred in an office building section of a large combination office-apartment project.

Doctors at Riley expect a week or more may be required to give Sheila a complete examination and various tests.

Ike Promises Federal Help For Drought-Stricken Texas

AMARILLO, Tex., July 10 (AP) — President Eisenhower today told a sweating, cheering crowd of ranchers and farmers that the full assets of the federal government would be mobilized to help them in their plea for aid because of long and bitter drought.

In a ten-minute appearance before a crowd which had come to tell six Southwest governors their ideas for drought relief, the President promised":

"And we will not dilly dally about it."

The President said he wanted to assure the people that the federal government was not concerned only with Washington and New York cities, but with the whole "United States of America and every man, woman and child in it."

"We want to work with you on this problem," he told nearly 3,000 persons who crowded into the hot and muggy City Auditorium.

"I came here with no magic formula," the President said, "to talk to the governors of the drought-stricken Southwestern states." He said he had talked to the governors, listened to them.

"I find even here there is no unanimity of opinion as to what is the best way to aid drought-stricken peoples," he said. But he said there was agreement that aid should be on a "let's do it now" basis.

Flashing a broad grin, the President said he was pleased to report that minor differences had been worked out between House and Senate bills for drought aid and that the bill "would be ready for signing in the morning."

Reds Begin Far Flung Beria Purge

All-Out Efforts To Brand Soviet Leader As Traitor

LONDON, July 10 (AP)—The Kremlin's far-flung propaganda machinery bore down bitterly tonight with the tag "foul enemy of the Soviet people" for Lavrenty P. Beria, the ousted ex-purgemaster and No. 2 Soviet.

The job was to sell the Soviet, satellite and captive millions in the uneasy Communist empire on that idea that he was indeed a traitor as charged.

Throughout the Soviet Union—from the Asian maritime provinces to the restive European Ukraine—Red propagandists whipped up the attack on Beria through radio, newspapers and indignation mass meetings.

Broadcast Accounts

Moscow radio in foreign language broadcasts beamed accounts of "Beria's criminal anti-party and anti-state activities" to the straining East European satellite countries. They had felt the lash of Beria's secret police system.

The Communist party Central Committee's official Beria communique was reprinted in dozens of dialects in newspapers read by minority peoples of the Soviet republics.

Moscow radio spoke of "enthusiasm and tempestuous prolonged applause" with which Russian mass meetings greeted the announcement of Beria's downfall.

The Kremlin sent Communist party officials into Moscow's huge automobile factory to lecture to thousands of workers on the official reasons for the purge of Stalin's old comrade-in-arms.

The radio reported messages from all parts of the Soviet Union are pouring into Moscow endorsing the case against Beria.

Struggle For Power

In keeping with the new Soviet policy against hero worship—none for Stalin or anyone else—the propaganda torrent of the last drama-packed 24 hours has made little or no mention of the remaining members of the former triumvirate: Premier Georgi Malenkov and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Meanwhile in Western Europe diplomats speculated that the purge of Beria had opened a naked struggle for power in the Kremlin but had not changed Russia's softer-looking foreign policies.

Most observers in the chancelleries of Britain and the continent were chary of commenting on the fall of the chilly-eyed police czar, who presumably is doomed to be shot as a traitor. But the first reactions were along these lines:

Premier Georgi Malenkov and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov teamed up against Beria, the third member of the triumvirate.

"Now, what is to become of Molotov?" asked Maurice Faure, vice chairman of the French National Assembly's Foreign Affairs Committee. But ever since Stalin's death Sir Alvary Gascoigne, British ambassador in Moscow, has been tipping Molotov as the likely big boss.

Continue Program

The Russians may be expected to continue their program of conciliatory gestures in foreign affairs. What has become known as their "peace offensive" has continued in the last two weeks even though Beria may have been in eclipse all that time.

The bosses of the Kremlin probably will go on trying to destroy the god-myth of Stalin. The liquidation of Beria and his cronies will be used by Malenkov to disassociate his regime from the odium of forced labor camps and police terror.

Peron's Party Presented Horses

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, July 10 (AP) — The Peronista party presented thoroughbred riding horses today to President Juan D. Peron and his guest here on a state visit, President Carlos Ibanez of Chile.

The Chilean President and Peron were serenaded also by a group of gauchos—Argentine cowboys—in festivities at the Chilean Embassy.

President Ibanez signed an economic accord with Argentina here earlier this week.

Rescue squad members work to free the left arm of Patsey Raymond, 32, wedged between the rear dual wheels of a city rubbish truck yesterday in Philadelphia. Raymond, whose arm was torn and wrist fractured, said he was resting on one of the tires as he put air in the second. He said the outside tire exploded, wedging his arm between the rim and inside tire.

Foreign Aid Funds Limit Agreed Upon

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—Senate-House conferees today agreed to set a limit of $5,157,232,500 in military and economic aid to 60 foreign countries described by the Eisenhower administration as needing U. S. help to keep some of them from falling into the Soviet orbit.

The compromise version, settling differences between separately passed Senate and House bills, would authorize $316,767,500 less than President Eisenhower originally requested.

However, the total may be cut still further when the Senate and House pass appropriations bills providing the actual money.

The present measure merely authorizes the continuation of the foreign aid program—and sets a ceiling on its cost—for the next 12 months.

While the conferees met, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told the Senate Appropriations Committee that foreign aid should be "a rapidly declining thing," but he declared:

"I think it would be very foolish of you to take a broad axe and cut off a billion dollars."

Humphrey made the comment in reply to a question by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) on what would happen if Congress whacked a billion dollars off the program.

Demands for further slashes arose on both sides of Capitol Hill despite a plea by Secretary of State Dulles yesterday that any substantial reductions might cause the entire Mutual Security program to "collapse."

Dulles contended that without adequate U. S. aid, some free nations would fall easy prey to Soviet pressure.

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate Appropriations Committee told newsmen his group is "not going to scuttle the foreign aid program," but he said the administration will have to justify every item down to the last dollar.

The Senate had voted to authorize $5,318,000,000; the House $4,998,000,000. Eisenhower had requested $5,474,000,000.

Elizabeth Ends Tour Of Wales

LLANGOLLEN, North Wales, July 10 (AP) — Queen Elizabeth finished her coronation tour of Wales today on an international note.

She called late in the day at a great cross-shaped tent on a hilltop where 1,500 Welshmen and their friends were singing their hearts out at their Eisteddfod, the annual music festival which is a famous Welsh institution.

The Queen, in a light blue dress, entered the tent with the Duke of Edinburgh and was welcomed by singers of 10 nations, including the United States.

The choir, thrown together for the greeting, was composed of singers from Wales and England, Austria, Canada, France Germany, Italy, Norway, Spain, Switzerland and America. About 4,000 heard the choir.

Demo Members Of Senate Probe Committee Resign

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—Democrats angrily resigned in a body today from the Senate Investigations subcommittee because Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis) had been given complete power to hire and fire staff members.

Senators McClellan (D-Ark), Jackson (D-Wash) and Symington (D-Mo) issued a "strong protest" that they have been put in "the impossible position of having responsibility without any voice, right or authority."

Accepts Resignations

A possibility arose that other Democrats might refuse to serve on the subcommittee whose investigations of alleged communism and subversion have touched off repeated controversies.

"I will accept the resignations," McCarthy told reporters. "If they don't want to take part in uncovering the graft and corruption of the old Truman-Acheson administration, they are, of course, entitled to refuse."

Certainly, he said, the subcommittee will continue to function whether or not it has any Democratic members.

The mass resignation, he said, "would appear to be a continuation of the old Democratic policy of either rule or ruin."

Matthews Erupts Fight

The party fight erupted around J. B. Matthews, the subcommittee's resigned chief of staff—a target of President Eisenhower, congressional, and religious leaders for having written a magazine article charging the Portestant clergy is infested with Reds.

Matthews' resignation was accepted yesterday after Democrats led a battle for his ouster and McCarthy claimed he alone had the power to hire and fire staff workers.

Which Twin Has Charm?

ATLANTA, July 10 (AP) — Which twin swallowed the charm?

Grady Hospital physicians said last night that 4-year-old Patresa Lorena Burtz has the peanut machine souvenir in her tummy. But Mrs. William Burtz, the mother, said she wasn't sure whether it was Patresa or Thresa Lee. The little blond, blue-eyed girls are identical twins.

Mrs. Burtz, said Patresa — she thinks — reported last night that "Trisa (sic) swallowed a football."

"She had it tied around her neck," Mrs. Burtz said. "Apparently she broke the string and put the charm in her mouth."

Doctors said the quarter - sized Indian head trinket should pass naturally.

The twins have caused other problems.

Shortly after birth, Mrs. Burtz said, one twin became ill. "I could not tell them apart, so for a time the well baby got the medicine and the sick one did without."

Sometimes the wrong one gets spanked too, she added.

Flash Forest Fire Snuffs Out Lives Of 15 Fighters

WILLOWS, Calif., July 10 (AP) — Seething billows of flames from a flash forest fire snuffed out the lives of 15 men last night as they scrambled through tangled brush of a canyon floor attempting to outrun the blaze.

The fire fighters died between the narrow walls of a canyon in Mendocino National Forest, about 30 miles northwest of Willows and 110 air miles north of San Francisco.

Fourteen of the victims were members of New Tribes Mission, a zealous missionary group whose existence has been plagued by tragedy.

The other was Forest Ranger Robert Powers who was directing the fire fighters in what appeared to be a routine job against a minor forest blaze.

Only nine in the fire fighting unit of 24 escaped.

At about 10 o'clock last night the men working under Powers' direction sat down to eat their rations. The fire seemed to be under control.

Then with devastating speed tragedy struck the canyon.

Charles J. Gleeson, in a copyrighted account in the Willows Journal, said the fire flamed up with explosive speed. Ranger Charles Lafferty, witnessing the flareup from a canyon wall, sped down to the group of men and told them to race for their lives.

Bob Werner, a forestry man, said the 15 clawed their way through scraggle brush for almost 10 minutes. Then the raging flames caught them, seared them and plunged beyond them.

The nine who escaped owe their lives to the fact they were on the sides of the canyon instead of in the draw.

The bodies were recovered quickly, but the fire ranged out of control. By mid-day it had covered 1,100 acres. There were 170 men on the lines today and 325 more were coming from other national forests.

Truce Teams Again Meet At Panmunjom

Official Comment On Progress Is Noticeably Lacking

PANMUNJOM, Saturday, July 11 (AP)—United Nations and Communist truce delegates meet again today only a few hours after Washington sources reported substantial progress toward erasing South Korean opposition to an armistice.

The delegates' announcement that they would confer at 11 a.m. (9 p.m., EST, Friday) was the only official word to come out of their 29-minute meeting yesterday, the first since June 20.

Taking the limelight for the moment from the truce negotiations was the U. S. diplomatic tussel with President Syngman Rhee, stubborn opponent of a truce that would leave Korea divided with Chinese Red troops in North Korea.

Could Reach Agreement

Washington informants said Rhee and U. S. Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson, President Eisenhower's special envoy in the critical, secret talks, could nail down an agreement if the 78-year-old Rhee did not again change his mind.

But in Seoul a South Korean, who is close to Rhee's side in the talks with Robertson, said "I believe it would be correct to say there has been some progress but no agreement."

Such a cautious statement has been the tenor of the scanty public announcements made by Robertson or Rhee's men since the talks started June 25.

The U. S. Embassy at Seoul contacted shortly after midnight on the Washington report, refused to comment on progress of the talks.

In Washington, some U. S. officials said the Rhee-Robertson understanding amounted to an agreement. But others, pointing to Rhee's past changes of mind on the issue of truce co-operation, said only a signing would make it conclusive.

Robertson and Rhee met Thursday but held no session Friday.

Broadcasts Editorial

Peiping radio, broadcasting an editorial from the People's Daily, the Communist party mouthpiece, continued its demands that the U. N. put hobbles on Rhee if the Allies want an armistice soon. This is believed to have been the line taken by Red negotiators at Friday's truce meeting.

The Communists blew up after Rhee in mid-June ordered his Republic of Korea guards to release 27,000 anti-Red North Korean war prisoners. Rhee's act abruptly halted processing work on a truce agreement that was near the signing stage.

An agreement with Rhee would permit U. N. truce negotiators to assure the Reds that South Korea would comply with armistice terms.

Project Collapse Kills One Man

SCARSDALE, N. Y., July 10 (AP) —A section of a large office building project collapsed as flooring was poured on the fourth story late today, apparently killing one workman and trapping more than a dozen others under tons of wet, fast hardening concrete.

Policemen, firemen and residents of this upper class residential community joined in a desperate fight to free the workmen before the concrete hardened.

Police said 13 men were trapped by the collapse. Rescue workers said one was believed dead.

Approximately 350 persons, many of them volunteers, joined in the tense fight against time—witnesses said the concrete was fast hardening.

The collapse occurred as the workmen poured concrete on the fourth floor of the office building. The cave-in area measured about 30 feet square.

John Scott, doorman at the apartment building across the street, said he was looking on when "a bunch of workmen just kind of fell from sight."

He said the collapse apparently carried to either the first floor or the basement.

The collapse occurred in an office building section of a large combination office-apartment project.

Three Bank Bandits Caught At Frederick

Held Up Libertytown Bank Of $18,000

FREDERICK, Md., July 10 (AP)—A quick working dragnet caught three gunmen here today 30 minutes after they had hauled about $18,000 out of a country bank at nearby Libertytown in a pillow case.

Police cruisers with sirens screaming chased them at 80 miles an hour through the heart of Frederick, wrong way down a one-way street. The bandits fired two ineffective shots.

It came to an end when an oncoming car, stopped for a traffic light, blocked the way and the stickup men banged into a three-way wreck.

Police Identify Robbers

Police identified them as Frank Allen, 35, of (316 1st St.) Niagara Falls, N. Y., Lassie Archer, 30-year-old Negro from Steelton, Pa., and Gilbert Littles, 30-year-old Negro from Harrisburg, Pa.

Two local Negro men were picked up later by police and were being questioned. A frederick Negro woman, Edna Smith, said the two men were with the three arrested for the robbery in her home here over the July 4th weekend again today a few hours before the bank was robbed.

The key man in capturing the fleeing trio was State Trooper Donald A. Tucker, who spotted them about 15 minutes after they first walked into the Peoples Bank of Libertytown at 2:45 p.m.

In the bank with Cashier Paul A. Spurrier were Miss Frances E. Smith, bookkeeper, and Clarence F. Brown of Monrovia, a customer.

The three men came in, Spurrier related, and the one white man among them did all the talking.

He asked for $3 worth of dimes. Then he stuck a pistol through the grill of the cage and said: "This is it." He said he wanted the money—"all of it."

The cash was gathered up from various drawers around the bank—mostly in bills, a few coins—and put in a white pillow case.

The trio bound Spurrier hand and foot and tied up Miss Smith's hands. They were ordered to lie on the floor of the vault for half an hour.

Cutomer Not Tied

But Brown, the customer, was not tied up. He helped Spurrier and Miss Smith slip their bonds and Spurrier flashed an alarm to the state police barracks just west of Frederick.

Libertytown is a one-street community on State Route 26, about 10 miles northeast of Frederick and 30 miles west and a little north of Baltimore.

The State Police spread the alarm by radio to all cruisers in the area and Frederick city police. Road blocks were set up on Route 26 on both sides of Libertytown and on other roads.

Trooper Tucker took up one of these posts at the intersection of Route 26 and U. S. 15, on the northeast edge of Frederick.

Someone called in there was a car headed for him at high speed, a light blue, 1953 Plymouth with Pennsylvania tags.

When it hit the intersection, Trooper Tucker took off behind it in his cruiser and soon was up to 80 miles an hour.

Harbor Tunnel For Baltimore Okayed By SRC

BALTIMORE, July 10 (AP) — The State Roads Commission today took a key step toward building the long dreamed of highway tunnel under Baltimore's harbor.

It decided the tunnel should run under the Patapsco River between the Fairfield section on the southwest and the Canton section on the northeast.

Now, engineers can go ahead deciding the exact location and drawing the blue prints, the lawyers and appraisers can start acquiring rights of way, and the financiers can start arranging the issue of around 75 or 80 million dollars worth of self-liquidating bonds to finance it.

Chairman Russell H. McCain of the Roads Commission estimated today it will take a year for the preliminaries, another three years to build the tunnel and an elaborate system of high-speed expressways connecting it with the main routes in and out of Baltimore.

"It is the greatest thing the state has ever undertaken," McCain said—echoing a line which was the watchword when Maryland opened its big 45-million dollar Chesapeake Bay Bridge just a year ago.

The Baltimore Harbor project is the last step in a long range program of major water crossings on which Maryland embarked in the 1930's.

Tolls from all four projects will be lumped together until the last is paid for.

McCain said preliminary studies show the harbor crossing will produce enough revenue so tolls can be reduced on the Bay Bridge about a year from now—as soon as permitted by the agreement under which the bonds for it were sold. The bay bridge has been producing about half as much again in tolls as was estimated in advance.

The harbor crossing is designed to solve the state's most vexatious highway bottleneck - getting through Baltimore.

PSC Authorizes Gas Rate Hike In Md. Counties

BALTIMORE, July 10 (AP) — Customers of the Washington Gas Light Co. in Prince George's and Montgomery counties will start paying higher rates after Aug. 1.

The Public Service Commission today authorized the supplier of natural gas to raise rates an average of 10 per cent or $1.87 a month.

The same increases were approved April 20 by the Public Utilities Commission in Washington for the firm's customers in the District of Columbia. The company has about 70,000 meters in the two Maryland counties.

The higher rates will be paid mostly by those using natural gas for heat. Others will enjoy a reduction except for some who might be affected by a raise in the monthly minimum from 75 cents to $1.

Money Is Left For Boys' Town

BALTIMORE, July 10 (AP) — A retired school teacher left between $50,000 and $60,000 in her will to establish a "Boys' Town" at Leonardtown, records of the Orphans Court disclosed today.

The money was left to the Xaverian Brothers by Miss Delia T. Lester who died at the age of 90 on May 26.

Miss Lester's will named her sister, Sarah A. Lester, as first in line for her estate. But the sister died first and the estate thereby was left to Brother Edward McConnell, Provincial of the Xaverian Brothers.

Miss Lester directed that the gift was "for the school's purpose, and to establish Boys' Town by the Xaverian Brothers at Leonardtown." The religious order already owns land in Leonardtown.

Realism Marks Pickett Training

CAMP PICKETT, Va., July 10 (AP)—Startling realism marked the demonstration of a tank-infantry attack here today as Camp Pickett showed off one of the Army's potent one-two punches to the visiting 80th Blue Ridge Infantry Division.

The demonstration, staged for the Virginia-Maryland-District of Columbia division at Camp Pickett for two weeks of training, featured heavy detonation, smoke screens, the clank of tank treads, the chatter of machine guns, and the crack of recoilless anti-tank guns.

The concussion of planted explosives and the drifting of smoke over the area of the 80th heightened the effect of "the real thing."

The demonstration was put on by the Tank Company and Company B of the First Batallion, Third Armored Cavalry Regiment, and featured 13 M-47 tanks, three armored personnel carriers, and 300 men in various roles as infantrymen and tankers.

"The attack" began as several tanks moved out of a wooded area to neutralize the fire of two anti-tank guns, mortars, machine guns, and riflemen. One tank sustained a hit from an anti-tank gun, while a second was disabled by a land mine. The remaining tanks then regrouped and, with infantrymen scurrying behind the protective armor, drove forward and forced the enemy to withdraw.

Bathers Flock To Sandy Point Beach

SANDY POINT, Md., July 10 (AP)—Bathers and picnickers lost no time getting to the bayside park here today when it reopened with federal court blessing.

Business resumed at Sandy Point State Park this morning, following Judge W. Calvin Chesnut's decision yesterday that the beach for Negroes had been renovated to a par with that for whites.

Chesnut found early last month that East Beach for Negroes was inferior to South Beach. The ruling meant the whole park had to close until facilities were equalized or that segregation end. A few days later gates did shut on orders of the Department of Forests and Parks because a sewer line ruptured under the beach for whites.

Since then about $65,000 has been spent improving East Beach. Chesnut decided the work produced equal facilities, which although separate fulfilled standards of Supreme Court decisions against racial discrimination.

In midafternoon nearly 50 cars were parked off South Beach, two at East Beach. Park attendants said more had turned out earlier and, anticipating a larger evening crowd, described business as about normal for a Friday.

The park opened last summer on Chesapeake Bay shore just above the new bridge.

Three Bank Bandits Caught At Frederick

Held Up Libertytown Bank Of $18,000

FREDERICK, Md., July 10 (AP)—A quick working dragnet caught three gunmen here today 30 minutes after they had hauled about $18,000 out of a country bank at nearby Libertytown in a pillow case.

Police cruisers with sirens screaming chased them at 80 miles an hour through the heart of Frederick, wrong way down a one-way street. The bandits fired two ineffective shots.

It came to an end when an oncoming car, stopped for a traffic light, blocked the way and the stickup men banged into a three-way wreck.

Police Identify Robbers

Police identified them as Frank Allen, 35, of (316 1st St.) Niagara Falls, N. Y., Lassie Archer, 30-year-old Negro from Steelton, Pa., and Gilbert Littles, 30-year-old Negro from Harrisburg, Pa.

Two local Negro men were picked up later by police and were being questioned. A frederick Negro woman, Edna Smith, said the two men were with the three arrested for the robbery in her home here over the July 4th weekend again today a few hours before the bank was robbed.

The key man in capturing the fleeing trio was State Trooper Donald A. Tucker, who spotted them about 15 minutes after they first walked into the Peoples Bank of Libertytown at 2:45 p.m.

In the bank with Cashier Paul A. Spurrier were Miss Frances E. Smith, bookkeeper, and Clarence F. Brown of Monrovia, a customer.

The three men came in, Spurrier related, and the one white man among them did all the talking.

He asked for $3 worth of dimes. Then he stuck a pistol through the grill of the cage and said: "This is it." He said he wanted the money—"all of it."

The cash was gathered up from various drawers around the bank—mostly in bills, a few coins—and put in a white pillow case.

The trio bound Spurrier hand and foot and tied up Miss Smith's hands. They were ordered to lie on the floor of the vault for half an hour.

Cutomer Not Tied

But Brown, the customer, was not tied up. He helped Spurrier and Miss Smith slip their bonds and Spurrier flashed an alarm to the state police barracks just west of Frederick.

Libertytown is a one-street community on State Route 26, about 10 miles northeast of Frederick and 30 miles west and a little north of Baltimore.

The State Police spread the alarm by radio to all cruisers in the area and Frederick city police. Road blocks were set up on Route 26 on both sides of Libertytown and on other roads.

Trooper Tucker took up one of these posts at the intersection of Route 26 and U. S. 15, on the northeast edge of Frederick.

Someone called in there was a car headed for him at high speed, a light blue, 1953 Plymouth with Pennsylvania tags.

When it hit the intersection, Trooper Tucker took off behind it in his cruiser and soon was up to 80 miles an hour.

Auxiliary Elects New Officers

BALTIMORE, July 10 (AP) — The American Legion auxiliary convened under a new president today —Mrs. Frank T. Wallace, Baltimore Gold Star mother whose husband commands Maryland Guard Memorial Post No. 35.

Serving during the coming year with Mrs. Wallace are Mrs. W. George Walz, Baltimore, treasurer; Mrs. Harlan Johnson, Baltimore, secretary; Mrs. J. Bailey Mercer, Baltimore, parliamentarian; Mrs. Garland Greer, Bel Air, historian; Mrs. Owen Rhodes, Westernport, chaplain, and Mrs. Robert Wallis, Baltimore, sergeant at arms.

Mrs. Walz, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Mercer were re-elected and the others are newcomers to the executive board.

Vice presidents elected by the women's organization were Mrs. Owen Bender, Baltimore; Mrs. Harry Jopp, Denton; Mrs. Sarah Carter, Mt. Savage; Mrs. Miriam P. Frey, Mt. Rainier; Mrs. L. Wylie Tipton, Towson; Mrs. David Brewer, Clear Spring; Mrs. Alton Andrews, Cambridge, and Mrs. Etta Stokes, Sparrows Point.

Committees today reported to the group on social service activities during the year.

A total of $53,442 was spent aiding 18,445 children and a total of $41,263 in aiding veterans through rehabilitation programs, it was disclosed.

The auxiliary's membership was put at 9,497 Maryland women.

The name first given to tomatoes was "love apples."

Harbor Tunnel For Baltimore Okayed By SRC

BALTIMORE, July 10 (AP) — The State Roads Commission today took a key step toward building the long dreamed of highway tunnel under Baltimore's harbor.

It decided the tunnel should run under the Patapsco River between the Fairfield section on the southwest and the Canton section on the northeast.

Now, engineers can go ahead deciding the exact location and drawing the blue prints, the lawyers and appraisers can start acquiring rights of way, and the financiers can start arranging the issue of around 75 or 80 million dollars worth of self-liquidating bonds to finance it.

Chairman Russell H. McCain of the Roads Commission estimated today it will take a year for the preliminaries, another three years to build the tunnel and an elaborate system of high-speed expressways connecting it with the main routes in and out of Baltimore.

"It is the greatest thing the state has ever undertaken," McCain said—echoing a line which was the watchword when Maryland opened its big 45-million dollar Chesapeake Bay Bridge just a year ago.

The Baltimore Harbor project is the last step in a long range program of major water crossings on which Maryland embarked in the 1930's.

Tolls from all four projects will be lumped together until the last is paid for.

McCain said preliminary studies show the harbor crossing will produce enough revenue so tolls can be reduced on the Bay Bridge about a year from now—as soon as permitted by the agreement under which the bonds for it were sold. The bay bridge has been producing about half as much again in tolls as was estimated in advance.

The harbor crossing is designed to solve the state's most vexatious highway bottleneck - getting through Baltimore.

The greatest width of the Pacific ocean is 11,000-mile stretch between Panama and the western part of the China sea.

PSC Authorizes Gas Rate Hike In Md. Counties

BALTIMORE, July 10 (AP) — Customers of the Washington Gas Light Co. in Prince George's and Montgomery counties will start paying higher rates after Aug. 1.

The Public Service Commission today authorized the supplier of natural gas to raise rates an average of 10 per cent or $1.87 a month.

The same increases were approved April 20 by the Public Utilities Commission in Washington for the firm's customers in the District of Columbia. The company has about 70,000 meters in the two Maryland counties.

The higher rates will be paid mostly by those using natural gas for heat. Others will enjoy a reduction except for some who might be affected by a raise in the monthly minimum from 75 cents to $1.

Money Is Left For Boys' Town

BALTIMORE, July 10 (AP) — A retired school teacher left between $50,000 and $60,000 in her will to establish a "Boys' Town" at Leonardtown, records of the Orphans Court disclosed today.

The money was left to the Xaverian Brothers by Miss Delia T. Lester who died at the age of 90 on May 26.

Miss Lester's will named her sister, Sarah A. Lester, as first in line for her estate. But the sister died first and the estate thereby was left to Brother Edward McConnell, Provincial of the Xaverian Brothers.

Miss Lester directed that the gift was "for the school's purpose, and to establish Boys' Town by the Xaverian Brothers at Leonardtown." The religious order already owns land in Leonardtown.

Realism Marks Pickett Training

CAMP PICKETT, Va., July 10 (AP)—Startling realism marked the demonstration of a tank-infantry attack here today as Camp Pickett showed off one of the Army's potent one-two punches to the visiting 80th Blue Ridge Infantry Division.

The demonstration, staged for the Virginia-Maryland-District of Columbia division at Camp Pickett for two weeks of training, featured heavy detonation, smoke screens, the clank of tank treads, the chatter of machine guns, and the crack of recoilless anti-tank guns.

The concussion of planted explosives and the drifting of smoke over the area of the 80th heightened the effect of "the real thing."

The demonstration was put on by the Tank Company and Company B of the First Batallion, Third Armored Cavalry Regiment, and featured 13 M-47 tanks, three armored personnel carriers, and 300 men in various roles as infantrymen and tankers.

"The attack" began as several tanks moved out of a wooded area to neutralize the fire of two anti-tank guns, mortars, machine guns, and riflemen. One tank sustained a hit from an anti-tank gun, while a second was disabled by a land mine. The remaining tanks then regrouped and, with infantrymen scurrying behind the protective armor, drove forward and forced the enemy to withdraw.

Food grown in France's Saar basin could supply the needs of only about 15 per cent of its population.

Bathers Flock To Sandy Point Beach

SANDY POINT, Md., July 10 (AP)—Bathers and picnickers lost no time getting to the bayside park here today when it reopened with federal court blessing.

Business resumed at Sandy Point State Park this morning, following Judge W. Calvin Chesnut's decision yesterday that the beach for Negroes had been renovated to a par with that for whites.

Chesnut found early last month that East Beach for Negroes was inferior to South Beach. The ruling meant the whole park had to close until facilities were equalized or that segregation end. A few days later gates did shut on orders of the Department of Forests and Parks because a sewer line ruptured under the beach for whites.

Since then about $65,000 has been spent improving East Beach. Chesnut decided the work produced equal facilities, which although separate fulfilled standards of Supreme Court decisions against racial discrimination.

In midafternoon nearly 50 cars were parked off South Beach, two at East Beach. Park attendants said more had turned out earlier and, anticipating a larger evening crowd, described business as about normal for a Friday.

The park opened last summer on Chesapeake Bay shore just above the new bridge.

To impress the populace with his importance, Roman emperor Nero had the leather soles of his sandals studded with precious stones.

Officials Rejoice Over Success Of Polio Vaccines

MONTOMERY, Ala., July 10 (AP) — Weary doctors and worried parents uncrossed their fingers and rejoiced today over an official announcement that gamma Globulin has curbed the polio outbreak in Montgomery.

State Health Officer, D. G. Gill and the Montgomery County health officer, Dr. A. H. Graham, returned their verdict a week after more than 31,000 children were inoculated with the polio - fighting serum.

It was the first time gamma globulin has been used anywhere on a wholesale basis to combat a near-epidemic of polio. The health officers waited a week before goicing their conclusion because it takes that long for the treatment to take effect.

"The mass immunization program of children 9 years old and under . . . has proven to be effective in reducing the number and severity of polio cases," the health authorities said in a joint statement.

"We believe that, in line with the results of experiments in Houston, Tex., Sioux City, Iowa, and Provo, Utah, the next four weeks in Montgomery will show fewer cases, by possibly 80 per cent. . . "

And those that do show up probably will be lighter than they would have been without the arresting benefits of gamma globulin, the doctors predicted.

Only six polio cases have been reported in the county since the mass vaccination project started on June 30, and all of them have been light. In the 10 days before the whole inoculation began, there were 27 cases.

Of the six new cases, the doctors said, three of the victims had gamma globulin shots; the other three were over the age limit.

They brought the season's total in Montgomery to 90 cases, virtually all of them children.

The four-day mass vaccination program was the forerunner of other similar preventive measures in stricken Caldwell County, N. C., and Elmira, N. Y.

Results there haven't been announced.

ANTS

There's a new and better way to kill ants. It's called Roach Filmz. When applied to any surface with the built-in cap applicator, it leaves a hard, dry, clean, invisible film. The film can't harm or soil any surface; but, when ants touch it, their legs become paralyzed and they die in two hours. A single application remains effective for months. You never see it, but it sure does get rid of ants and roaches! Roach Filmz is available at ROSENBAUM'S

Why Cities Prosper

Would you rather make a good living in a big city or a better living in a small city? Maybe if you were a devotee of great orchestras or liked the roar of traffic, you would take the big city. But most persons no doubt would prefer the small city and the larger income.

A report of the U. S. Census Bureau shows that the most prosperous communities are the smaller cities instead of the great metropolitan centers. Commenting on the report, the Institute of Life Insurance remarks: "Any notion that the size of a community is a dominant factor in its prosperity is dispelled by the figures."

What makes a small city prosperous? Says the institute: "All the top income communities have one factor. That is an unusually high proportion of the population earning a livelihood in manufacturing—particularly in durable goods."

To show how the big places come off second best in median income of all residents—that's the yardstick—here's the breakdown. Of the 10 top-income cities in 1950, five had fewer than 200,000 each in their "urbanized areas" which include the city-like suburbs. First was South Bend, Ind., with a population of 168,000 in the "built-up area." The median personal income there was $3,673. Flint, Mich., was second with the figure $3,666.

Now for the big cities. Only after the two small cities mentioned did a big city take third place—Detroit. Chicago and Cleveland managed to finish sixth and ninth, respectively. No other of the dozens of big U. S. cities was in the leading group.

Time Of Decision

Nature's nobleman, the home gardener, now faces his toughest decision of the year. Not that it wasn't tough to decide that this or that weekend was the time to go ahead and get the seeds in the ground. But now he's up against it.

The consistency of the "soil around the roots of the weeds is akin to that of paving material and resists every effort to unseat them short of blasting. Meanwhile the earth around the roots of snap beans has cracked and faulted. Touch one of the bean plants and it falls in the row like a discarded handkerchief. Same goes for the tomatoes, the limas, and a row of peppers and okra.

To top off the gardener's woes he has presumably made up his mind to vacation sometime during the next few weeks. That being the case, should he rush down and get the garden in tiptop shape, knowing that it will go to rack and ruin according to a precise formula based on the square of the distance a man vacations from his garden?

Or should he let it go hang and pay attention to the lawn, which people can see, vowing to take a prolonged holiday at a different time next year?

This is the decision that can make a man in the eyes of his family—or break him. This is the time during which the true gardeners are separated from the February catalogue skimmers. This is the time when a man becomes the captain of his soul—a man who runs his own affairs with clear eye and self assurance—or a man who lets his garden run him.

Calling The Corsairs

Air Force Sabrejets and other whooshing blowtorches may be the latest word in power-packed flying machines. As night-fighters they are filled with electronic gear for picking up targets, setting course to intercept and for firing guns automatically when the range is right. These planes are worth all they cost, which is several hundred thousand dollars apiece.

But the quest for speed has its handicaps. Not long ago some of the Red Chinese pilots started making nuisance raids in old-model prop jobs. At night they would come in close to the ground, hedgehopping. They'd drop their small bombs and be off before an alarm could be given.

They knew the Allies' radar couldn't pick up the image of aircraft flying that low. Also they knew they could usually evade a pursuing jet fighter by their ability to turn in a tighter radius and by dodging in and out of mountain gorges.

Stymied, the Air Force called on the Navy, or maybe the Navy broached the plan. And so from carrier decks the Corsairs of World War II design began taking off to hunt for the equally old-style Yaks of Russian make. The Corsairs could line out at 250 mph if necessary—and they could slow down to make a tight turn on a Yak when it appeared.

As a result, an elderly Navy "retread" from the other war has knocked off four Yaks in quick succession. The horse-and-buggy days may be over. But the old prop planes still have their uses in the kind of war being fought in Korea.

A Fearsome Debt

The Treasury will be compelled to borrow more than $30,000,000,000 in the next six months. This doesn't mean the debt, now more than $265,000,000,000, will zoom to $265,000,000,000. Bonds representing debts contracted in the past will fall due and must be refunded. But nearly $9,000,000,000 of the sum will be new borrowings to cover deficits.

This massive operation is described as one of the toughest ever to confront the U. S. Treasury. This richest and most productive country of all time has been plunged into debt that staggers the imagination. It must be teetered along, often with an impact on the economy that is menacing. The alternative is repudiation and chaos.

The proper procedure, of course, is to reduce it a little at a time until it is reduced to manageable proportions. But no one seems to know how to get such a policy started.

Rodeo Time

Rodeo, successor to the Wild West show, but different, is in full swing in every state west of the Mississippi, and in some eastern spots. It is a great spectacle the cowboys of the rodeo circuit stage, whether it is a one-day affair for diminutive purses or the Cheyenne Frontier Days, which tops 'em all.

Colorful parades, frequently staged several times during rodeo week and replete with historical depictions, as in Cheyenne and Deadwood, add to the high drama of this form of entertainment. Rodeo has become an integral part of the American West and, as any rodeo fan will tell you, will live forever.

Tracing Heart Movements

Various instruments are used to test the heart. Some are simple but others are so complex the technician needs special training in physics and electronics to operate them. All this equipment has been developed in our fight against the No. 1 cause of death.

The latest device is the ballistocardiograf (BKG). Physicians want an instrument that will detect heart disease in its earliest stage or, better, one that will predict weaknesses that might lead to an attack. To date the ballistocardiograf shows more promise along this line than any of the others. This is an impressive sounding name that was selected to explain its use. It is taken from the Greek words ballein, to throw; Kardio, the heart; and grapho, to write. The ballein or throwing part, is most interesting. Most of us have had the experience of lying quietly on the left side in bed and feeling the mattress move with each beat of the heart. Apparently with each thrust, or contraction, of the heart muscle there is a certain amount of recoil which shakes the bed. The phenomenon also can be demonstrated by standing still on a sensitive scale. By feeling the pulse you will notice that the pointer moves slightly with each heart beat. This is the principle of the ballistocardiograf.

The machine consists of a flat table suspended and allowed to move in one direction only. When an individual lies on the table, the movement of the body caused by the heart beat is recorded in much the same way as in the electrocardiogram. The record obtained is a series of waves showing in succession the thrust of the heart as it contracts, the recoil as the blood is pumped out, the force of the blood hitting the large blood vessels, and the impact against the smaller vessels in different parts of the body. Because each of these thrusts forces the body to move in different directions, the ensuing graf is a series of peaks and valleys.

The value of the ballistocardiograf in diagnosing early heart disease is still debatable because, although the idea was conceived in 1877, it has been in use only since 1939. When the instrument was first evaluated a number of apparently normal persons with no heart disease were found to have abnormal tracings. This group has been watched over a period of eight to 10 years and the majority have had heart attacks in that period of time. Thousands of such studies will be necessary before we will be able to predict with certainty that such tracings indicate trouble in the future. This explains why the machine is still considered a research instrument.

CANCER FROM BLOW

Mrs. Z. writes: Could a single blow on the breast cause cancer?

REPLY

This is a moot question. If a woman discovers a "lump" after a blow, she will never know whether the injury was responsible or whether the lesion existed previously or was brought to her attention through examination after being hit. Furthermore, not all "lumps" are malignant.

HEART ATTACKS

R.E. writes: What causes heart attacks: What one eats or what one thinks?

REPLY

A little of both in that fat people and those who carry the burdens of the world on their shoulders are popular candidates.

NOT FATAL

W. C. writes: Does osteoarthritis tend to shorten the life span?

REPLY

No, and in many instances life is prolonged because stiffness of the joints curbs overactivity in the elderly.

FINGER RUBBING

K. S. writes: When I listen to the radio and look at television, I find myself rubbing my thumb and first finger together. Does this mean anything?

REPLY

You may be concerned because you heard or read that this pill rolling maneuver is associated with Parkinson's disease. But most of us have mannerisms of some type when we are under strain, and rubbing two fingers together is preferable to pulling out eyebrows, digging in the ears, or biting the nails.

FAMILIAL ANEMIA

K. W. writes: I served overseas in World War II on several fronts, including Italy. I now have Mediterranean anemia, which the army says is not service connected. Isn't this condition caught in Mediterranean countries?

REPLY

No, because the disease is not contagious. It is a hereditary condition that occurred originally among certain inhabitants in the Mediterranean area. People who migrate from that part of the world often carry the trait so that Mediterranean, or Cooley's anemia, is now present in many parts of the United States.

McCarthy And J. B. Matthews Have Aroused Great Religious Bitterness; Matthews Was Rebuffed By Senate In His Attack On Anna Rosenberg

WASHINGTON — Chief tragedy of the Senate dispute over J. B. Matthew's and his charges that "the largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus are Protestant clergymen" is the cleavage it has caused between Protestants and Catholics.

Unfortunately Matthews' background, plus his support from Christian Front and Coughlinite groups, plus the vigorous support given McCarthy by these same factions, has aroused bitterness in the Protestant world at a time when relations between the two great church groups appeared on the way to greater harmony.

Actually, many Catholic leaders disapprove of McCarthy; but unfortunately they have not been as vocal as his supporters.

Matthews' background is so well known that McCarthy must have realized what religious bitterness he would stir up when he hired him to direct his committee activtes. Even if Matthews had not made his anti-Protestant charge in the American Mercury, it was obvious that Matthews would have aroused Protestant and Jewish resentment.

Among other things, Matthews was given credit in Senate testimony for leading the unfair and wanton attack on Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg when she was erroneously branded a Communist. He is a friend of of Joseph Kamp, sentenced to jail for refusing to testify regarding his Constitutional Educational League. He was a contributor to Coughlin's newspaper "Social Justice," officially recommended by the Nazi government before Pearl Harbor. He has had the backing of Allan Zoll of American Patriots, Inc., listed by the Justice Department as subversive, also of rabble rouser Merwin K. Hart.

Gala Dinner

The American Mercury, in which Matthews' anti-Protestant article appeared, is now owned by Russell Maguire, once close to the Christian front and backer of the recent anti-Semetic document, "The Iron Curtain over America."

A gala dinner given in honor of Matthews at the Waldorf, Feb. 13, gives some idea of his supporters. Copies of the American Mercury were on every table. Senator McCarthy was the chief speaker. Columnist George Sokolsky was toastmaster. A message was read from Vice President Nixon.

The guest list included: Allan Zoll, Merwin K. Hart, Joseph Kamp, Westbrook Pegler, Alfred Kohlberg of the China lobby, Frederick Cartwright, financial agent of Sir Oswald Moseley, leader of the British Union of Fascists; Dr. Ruth Fischer, sister of Hans Eisler; John T. Flynn, Roy Cohn, counsel to Senator McCarthy; Mary Jung of the American Vigilant Intelligence Federation.

Walter Winchell bought a ticket but did not show.

Modest Fellow Traveler

Matthews once testified: "I hope it will not appear immodest, but for a period of years I was probably more closely associated with the Communist party's united front movements than any other individual in this country."

After his erroneous information regarding Anna Rosenberg began to backfire, Matthews tried to slide out of all responsibility. He denied giving informaton to Benjamin Freedman, despite Freedman's testimony to the contrary. However, Matthews' letter to Russell Turner, assistant to Fulton Lewis, Jr., really put him on the spot.

"Here are the photostats, together with a memorandum on the Communist organizations with which A. R. (Anna Rosenberg) has, according to the public records, been affiliated," Matthews wrote on Nov. 27, 1950.

"On the question of whether or not the A. R. of these documents is the A. R., I can report there is not the slightest doubt. I have made exhaustive inquiries and investigations, as a result of which I have established beyond any possibility of dispute that there had been only one Anna Rosenberg sufficiently known in public life to be listed with the well-known names in these documents, and that there has not been any other Anna Rosenberg of comparable fame, stature, notoriety, or what have you during the past 25 years. One of my sources is a Jewish organization which knows about these things.

"Ben Mandel of the House Un-American Committee tells me that he told you Anna Rosenberg is a name like John Smith. My comment to that is 'nuts' "

The fact that the Senate unanimously reversed Matthews in regard to Mrs. Rosenberg and sent a special report to the Justice Department suggesting possible prosecution of witnesses for perjury should have been enough to stop Senator McCarthy from hiring him.

Catholic Anti-McCarthyism

Interviews with Catholic leaders develop the fact that many thinking Catholics are dead opposed to McCarthy, don't like the fact that he has never married, or the fact that as a judge he granted quickie divorces.

On the other hand, "Our Sunday Visitor," largest circulating Catholic paper, published two articles by Father Richard Ginger vigorously supporting McCarthy simutaneously with publication of the Matthews charges against the Protestant clergy.

Unfortunately these helped to overshadow the fact that "America," organ of the Jesuits, differed with McCarthy over Adlai Stevenson last fall and that "Commonweal," Catholic lay weekly, published a stirring statement by Father Leon Sullivan, once imprisoned by Chinese Communists which read:

"I would rather return to my Chinese Communist prison cell than avail myself of Senator McCarthy's 'protection.' He is as great, if not a greater threat to American freedom than the military might of the Kremlin, and believe me I do not underestimate either the Kremlin's might or its cleverness.

"My missionary career in China ended in a Communist court in which accusations were taken as facts, charges as proofs and in which the police announced that 'defense is not necessary; we never make a mistake; when we arrest you, you're guilty; a defense is only necessary in corrupt bourgeois society where they have corrupt officials.'

"As a result of that experience," continued Father Sullivan, "I cling desperately to a principle that is one of the foundation stones of our democratic way of life, the principle that a man is innocent until he is proven guilty. God help all of us if we ever abandon that principle.

"If we must betray democracy in order to save it, why bother?"

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The government of Red China presided over by Mao Tse-Tung is not going to sign the armistice in Korea. Yet this same government was formally declared by resolution of the United Nations in February 1951 to be an aggressor.

The government of Red China whose capital is at Peiping is not to be responsible for honoring the terms of the armistice in Korea, where more than 1,000,000 Communist Chinese troops are stationed.

So, if the armistice is signed, the only parties legally bound by the agreement will be the United Nations and the weak and inconsequential puppet regime of the so-called North Korean government.

Bad Feeling Exists

Within the last few days the losses of the South Korean armies have been very heavy in resisting a Chinese Communist offensive. There is bad feeling in Korea, where rumors are current among the people that the United States military command actually has rationed ammunition and thus contributed to the heavy casualties.

Members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for the most part feel that Rhee is being threatened with a policing of his troops by the United Nations command, especially if he doesn't sign the armistice. The letter from General Mark Clark assuring the Communists that the UN would take over the discipline of the South Koreans has caused an unfavorable impression on Capitol Hill. Yet no measures are being taken to compel the Red Chinese government to own up to its part in the Korean War and sign the armistice.

Senator Knowland, acting Republican leader, has issued, with the knowledge but not with the consent of the White House, a statement in which he says in part:

"Under the armistice as negotiated for the past two years, the fiction was established and maintained that the only Communist forces in Korea were and are the People's Republic of Korea and the Chinese People's Volunteers. The Chinese Communist regime, which has been declared the aggressor by the United Nations and which supplied most of the armed forces, and with the help of the Soviet Union supplied the planes, tanks, guns and ammunition, has not been a party to the negotiations, does not sign the armistice and does not guarantee that the armistice will be respected once it is entered into.

"In effect, the responsibility of the Chinese Communist regime of Mao Tse-Tung for making aggression or keeping the peace is ignored. No responsible official of that regime signs or underwrites anything. We, however, will be obligated, if and when we sign, by the signature of General Mark Clark, U. S. Army and commander of the United Nations Command.

Turning Point Of History

"It is my personal belief, which I state on my responsibility as a senator of the United States, that we have now arrived at one of the great turning points of history."

When the truce negotiations began, on June 30, 1951, General Ridgway addressed the Red representative as the "commander-in-chief of the Communist forces in Korea." When the reply came, it was signed by the "commander of the Chinese volunteer forces."

On July 4, 1951, this correspondent wrote: "One of the reasons the American government has ordered Gen. Ridgway to ask to see credentials of the opposing commanders is that an armistice made with a group of 'volunteers' could be repudiated by the Peiping regime any time in the future. Unless the Communist authority in Peiping in some way assumes responsibility for what is being done by Gen. Peng Teh-Huai, there can hardly be any agreement that would assure the honoring of the armistice once hostilities are stopped."

Vacation

This essay slants toward the vacationers. There are many ways of vacationing. Some go to London "to look at the queen" and afterward to do "Yurrup," and come home tired out and needing a rest before going back to work.

Some, weary of the daily grind, plan a visit with wife's relatives at "Griggsby Station" where eating is good and perfect relaxation is possible.

Still others would like to have a vacation, but their work is so confining and their purse so flat that they can't leave town without the risk of losing their job, and this they can't afford to let happen.

One wise man found a substitute: he "traveled extensively in his back yard this summer," observing the birds, the bees, the bugs, the beetles, and the butterflies.

Mother Nature is kind to all of us in providing automatically a form of vacation which in the long run is more satisfying than the golf links, the boardwalk, or the dude ranch. Like the air we breathe, we are hardly aware that it exists, much less that its importance is so great that we couldn't keep house without it. A few instances may clear the point:

The human heart beats over two billion times in an average lifetime, every day lifting the weight of one ton to the height of 75 feet. This gigantic work could never be performed but for the fact that between the heartbeats there is a "vacation" period when the organ is at rest, and the total of these rest periods amounts to four months out of every year — quite a liberal allowance one would think.

Maybe a chance reader who "knows his engines" will bear me out in saying that the little dingus that makes possible the transportation of heavy freight lies in the play in the couplings. If the train were welded into a single unit the force of an earthquake would be required to start it, and a harnessed hydrogen bomb would be required to keep it going. But, by manipulating the slack 6,000 horsepower in Diesels can do the trick easily and with power to spare.

There are various ideas about the meaning of the cackling of a hen after she lays an egg. Is it a benign notice that you are to have a fresh egg for your breakfast? It is a note of pride?

Charles Frederick Goss, preacher, author, newspaperman at the turn of the century, said it is a note of despair, meaning, in hen language, "I have done it this time, but I can never do it again."

But as she forages in strawstacks and neighbors' gardens and drinks from the old mill stream, her self-confidence mounts as she begins to feel that under proper conditions she might lay another egg; and when the time comes she actually does. And so alternating between hope and despair she rounds out her season's quota, after which she takes her sabbatical, and nests or goes to market in the expectation of a return engagement next season.

Rather a homely conceit, but these short and simple annals of the poor hen have significance for mortals, as Goss points out.

We all have our ups and downs, our triumphs and disasters. We must never let our failures keep us down, for they are part and parcel of our later successes.

Someone said to James Whitcomb Riley, "I understand you get $5 for every word you write." "That is so," replied the Hoosier poet, "but there are days and days when I can't think of a single word." Shall we say those vacuous days were lost? Hardly. Great new ideas were incubating.

An understudy of Edison's offered his resignation, saying he had been with him two years now, and hadn't invented a single thing. Edison replied: "You have found out a hundred things that won't work, and that is much."

Monotony is a form of spiritual paralysis. We must get rid of it or it will get us down. Housewives, by the nature of their work, are most susceptible to its attack. Many find their escape in canasta or club or other form of social activity. Her domestic routine falls under three categories: forenoon, afternoon, and night. Edward Rowland Sill counsels: "Make this forenoon sublime, this afternoon a psalm, this night a prayer, and Time is conquered, and thy crown is won."

Everlastingness, per se, has but little if any appeal to most people. There is in it too much of the monotony from which we seek to escape. But when purpose, and growth, expansion, quality, and such spiritual dimensions are added, the prospect of the future life becomes most fascinating.

William Lyon Phelps said: "Except in moments of black depression, I have never been in a frame of mind when I didn't want to live. I should like to live in New Haven for the next 500 years; and as far as the activities of the next world are concerned I already have work enough blocked out to keep me busy the next two or three trillion years, and at the end of that time it is probable that something new will turn up."

Yours for plenty of work, with vacations,

BROTHER BARNABAS.

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Intent

The main purpose of an intelligence organization of any country is to gather, evaluate and utilize information on the intent of friend and foe alike. Intent is a matter of evaluation and may involve a certain amount of estimating, assuming, and even crystal gazing. A competent intelligence organization does not rule out any possibility; it tries not to be caught short and then have to alibi its failure to forecast the conduct of other nations. It exists to do forecasting and its officials are paid to do precisely that.

The public and even the press know very little about the intelligence activities of our country. They are necessarily secretive and should remain so. It used to be that the Army, Navy, and State Departments functioned independently, gathering their own data and making their own estimates. When this system was in vogue, each department sent copies of data to the others; but each made its own evaluations.

In World War II, the OSS came into existence as a super-espionage organization to specialize in difficult operations. It was over-advertised and glamorized which is never necessary for espionage. That spy is best who is least known or noticed. A hidden organization can become overt through a minor indiscretion, thus imperilling the lives of agents. For instance, the single defection of Guzenko in Canada led to the exposure of the whole of Soviet Russia's espionage apparatus in the Western world.

Finally, the Central Intelligence Agency was organized to meet all the needs of the country for intelligence and espionage. The CIA is a large, independent arm of government with a huge budget. If its judgments and evaluations are correct, it can be of the greatest value and whatever is spent on it is justified. If its estimates are wrong and the agencies of government, from the President down, operate on incorrectly evaluated data, then the danger to the country can be enormous.

Therefore the CIA, which gathers, eliminates and evaluates both strategic and tactical data, is a tremendously important agency of government. At present, the CIA is managed by Allen Dulles, brother of the secretary of State. His predecessor was General Walter Bedell Smith, now under secretary of State and one of the closest advisers to General Eisenhower.

It is quite clear from all available data that the intent of the Germans to attack in what came to be known as the Battle of the Bulge could have and should have been known. American intelligence was inadequate, particularly as to the intent of the Germans. There are many explanations of why we failed to know the German intent, but none of them is even plausible.

To cite two more instances: it should have been known, in the early stages of the Korean War, that Chinese troops were marching from Canton to Manchuria to come to the relief of the North Koreans who had been defeated by General MacArthur. A controversy developed as to whether General Charles A. Willoughby, MacArthur's intelligence officer, or the CIA was badly informed. Willoughby blames the CIA and the CIA blames Willoughby. The fact is that an intention of the Chinese Communists, many months in the making and actually in process, was not known to our command until the Chinese struck at us.

Similarly, President Syngman Rhee publicly stated his intention to adopt an independent attitude toward anti-Communist prisoners of war unless the Republic of Korea got a square deal out of the so-called truce. This statement of intent on the part of the Republic of Korea was evaluated incorrectly as a bluff. It turned out to be startlingly real.

Evaluation is difficult, requiring not only enormous fundamental knowledge but keen judgment. It would be stupid to assume that evaluation will always be correct and that any human being possesses godlike wisdom.

Nevertheless, when the stakes are so high, too many errors of judgment cannot be lightly accepted as average human error. That can be too costly.

An intelligence organization must be sensitive to the intent of every other country. It should have, for instance, anticipated the development of neutralism. However, no intelligence organization can or should be responsible for overt acts to correct discovered intentions. Espionage discovers; other agencies act on the discoveries. Otherwise, the intelligence organization becomes another State Department and defies the reason for its existence.

Meanwhile the earth around the roots of snap beans has cracked and faulted. Touch one of the bean plants and it falls in the row like a discarded handkerchief. Same goes for the tomatoes, the limas, and a row of peppers and okra.

To top off the gardener's woes he has presumably made up his mind to vacation sometime during the next few weeks. That being the case, should he rush down and get the garden in tiptop shape, knowing that it will go to rack and ruin according to a precise formula based on the square of the distance a man vacations from his garden?

Or should he let it go hang and pay attention to the lawn, which people can see, vowing to take a prolonged holiday at a different time next year?

This is the decision that can make a man in the eyes of his family—or break him. This is the time during which the true gardeners are separated from the February catalogue skimmers. This is the time when a man becomes the captain of his soul—a man who runs his own affairs with clear eye and self assurance—or a man who lets his garden run him.

Calling The Corsairs

Air Force Sabrejets and other whooshing blowtorches may be the latest word in power-packed flying machines. As night-fighters they are filled with electronic gear for picking up targets, setting course to intercept and for firing guns automatically when the range is right. These planes are worth all they cost, which is several hundred thousand dollars apiece.

But the quest for speed has its handicaps. Not long ago some of the Red Chinese pilots started making nuisance raids in old-model prop jobs. At night they would come in close to the ground, hedgehopping. They'd drop their small bombs and be off before an alarm could be given.

They knew the Allies' radar couldn't pick up the image of aircraft flying that low. Also they knew they could usually evade a pursuing jet fighter by their ability to turn in a tighter radius and by dodging in and out of mountain gorges.

Stymied, the Air Force called on the Navy, or maybe the Navy broached the plan. And so from carrier decks the Corsairs of World War II design began taking off to hunt for the equally old-style Yaks of Russian make. The Corsairs could line out at 250 mph if necessary—and they could slow down to make a tight turn on a Yak when it appeared.

As a result, an elderly Navy "retread" from the other war has knocked off four Yaks in quick succession. The horse-and-buggy days may be over. But the old prop planes still have their uses in the kind of war being fought in Korea.

A Fearsome Debt

The Treasury will be compelled to borrow more than $30,000,000,000 in the next six months. This doesn't mean the debt, now more than $265,000,000,000, will zoom to $265,000,000,000. Bonds representing debts contracted in the past will fall due and must be refunded. But nearly $9,000,000,000 of the sum will be new borrowings to cover deficits.

This massive operation is described as one of the toughest ever to confront the U. S. Treasury. This richest and most productive country of all time has been plunged into debt that staggers the imagination. It must be teetered along, often with an impact on the economy that is menacing. The alternative is repudiation and chaos.

The proper procedure, of course, is to reduce it a little at a time until it is reduced to manageable proportions. But no one seems to know how to get such a policy started.

Rodeo Time

Rodeo, successor to the Wild West show, but different, is in full swing in every state west of the Mississippi, and in some eastern spots. It is a great spectacle the cowboys of the rodeo circuit stage, whether it is a one-day affair for diminutive purses or the Cheyenne Frontier Days, which tops 'em all.

Colorful parades, frequently staged several times during rodeo week and replete with historical depictions, as in Cheyenne and Deadwood, add to the high drama of this form of entertainment. Rodeo has become an integral part of the American West and, as any rodeo fan will tell you, will live forever.

How To Keep Well

Tracing Heart Movements

Various instruments are used to test the heart. Some are simple but others are so complex the technician needs special training in physics and electronics to operate them. All this equipment has been developed in our fight against the No. 1 cause of death.

The latest device is the ballistocardiograf (BKG). Physicians want an instrument that will detect heart disease in its earliest stage or, better, one that will predict weaknesses that might lead to an attack. To date the ballistocardiograf shows more promise along this line than any of the others. This is an impressive sounding name that was selected to explain its use. It is taken from the Greek words ballein, to throw; Kardio, the heart; and grapho, to write. The ballein or throwing part, is most interesting. Most of us have had the experience of lying quietly on the left side in bed and feeling the mattress move with each beat of the heart. Apparently with each thrust, or contraction, of the heart muscle there is a certain amount of recoil which shakes the bed. The phenomenon also can be demonstrated by standing still on a sensitive scale. By feeling the pulse you will notice that the pointer moves slightly with each heart beat. This is the principle of the ballistocardiograf.

The machine consists of a flat table suspended and allowed to move in one direction only. When an individual lies on the table, the movement of the body caused by the heart beat is recorded in much the same way as in the electrocardiogram. The record obtained is a series of waves showing in succession the thrust of the heart as it contracts, the recoil as the blood is pumped out, the force of the blood hitting the large blood vessels, and the impact against the smaller vessels in different parts of the body. Because each of these thrusts forces the body to move in different directions, the ensuing graf is a series of peaks and valleys.

The value of the ballistocardiograf in diagnosing early heart disease is still debatable because, although the idea was conceived in 1877, it has been in use only since 1939. When the instrument was first evaluated a number of apparently normal persons with no heart disease were found to have abnormal tracings. This group has been watched over a period of eight to 10 years and the majority have had heart attacks in that period of time. Thousands of such studies will be necessary before we will be able to predict with certainty that such tracings indicate trouble in the future. This explains why the machine is still considered a research instrument.

CANCER FROM BLOW

Mrs. Z. writes: Could a single blow on the breast cause cancer?

REPLY

This is a moot question. If a woman discovers a "lump" after a blow, she will never know whether the injury was responsible or whether the lesion existed previously or was brought to her attention through examination after being hit. Furthermore, not all "lumps" are malignant.

HEART ATTACKS

R.E. writes: What causes heart attacks: What one eats or what one thinks?

REPLY

A little of both in that fat people and those who carry the burdens of the world on their shoulders are popular candidates.

NOT FATAL

W. C. writes: Does osteoarthritis tend to shorten the life span?

REPLY

No, and in many instances life is prolonged because stiffness of the joints curbs overactivity in the elderly.

FINGER RUBBING

K. S. writes: When I listen to the radio and look at television, I find myself rubbing my thumb and first finger together. Does this mean anything?

REPLY

You may be concerned because you heard or read that this pill rolling maneuver is associated with Parkinson's disease. But most of us have mannerisms of some type when we are under strain, and rubbing two fingers together is preferable to pulling out eyebrows, digging in the ears, or biting the nails.

FAMILIAL ANEMIA

K. W. writes: I served overseas in World War II on several fronts, including Italy. I now have Mediterranean anemia, which the army says is not service connected. Isn't this condition caught in Mediterranean countries?

REPLY

No, because the disease is not contagious. It is a hereditary condition that occurred originally among certain inhabitants in the Mediterranean area. People who migrate from that part of the world often carry the trait so that Mediterranean, or Cooley's anemia, is now present in many parts of the United States.

McCarthy And J. B. Matthews Have Aroused Great Religious Bitterness; Matthews Was Rebuffed By Senate In His Attack On Anna Rosenberg

WASHINGTON — Chief tragedy of the Senate dispute over J. B. Matthew's and his charges that "the largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus are Protestant clergymen" is the cleavage it has caused between Protestants and Catholics.

Unfortunately Matthews' background, plus his support from Christian Front and Coughlinite groups, plus the vigorous support given McCarthy by these same factions, has aroused bitterness in the Protestant world at a time when relations between the two great church groups appeared on the way to greater harmony.

Actually, many Catholic leaders disapprove of McCarthy; but unfortunately they have not been as vocal as his supporters.

Matthews' background is so well known that McCarthy must have realized what religious bitterness he would stir up when he hired him to direct his committee activtes. Even if Matthews had not made his anti-Protestant charge in the American Mercury, it was obvious that Matthews would have aroused Protestant and Jewish resentment.

Among other things, Matthews was given credit in Senate testimony for leading the unfair and wanton attack on Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg when she was erroneously branded a Communist. He is a friend of of Joseph Kamp, sentenced to jail for refusing to testify regarding his Constitutional Educational League. He was a contributor to Coughlin's newspaper "Social Justice," officially recommended by the Nazi government before Pearl Harbor. He has had the backing of Allan Zoll of American Patriots, Inc., listed by the Justice Department as subversive, also of rabble rouser Merwin K. Hart.

Gala Dinner

The American Mercury, in which Matthews' anti-Protestant article appeared, is now owned by Russell Maguire, once close to the Christian front and backer of the recent anti-Semetic document, "The Iron Curtain over America."

A gala dinner given in honor of Matthews at the Waldorf, Feb. 13, gives some idea of his supporters. Copies of the American Mercury were on every table. Senator McCarthy was the chief speaker. Columnist George Sokolsky was toastmaster. A message was read from Vice President Nixon.

The guest list included: Allan Zoll, Merwin K. Hart, Joseph Kamp, Westbrook Pegler, Alfred Kohlberg of the China lobby, Frederick Cartwright, financial agent of Sir Oswald Moseley, leader of the British Union of Fascists; Dr. Ruth Fischer, sister of Hans Eisler; John T. Flynn, Roy Cohn, counsel to Senator McCarthy; Mary Jung of the American Vigilant Intelligence Federation.

Walter Winchell bought a ticket but did not show.

Modest Fellow Traveler

Matthews once testified: "I hope it will not appear immodest, but for a period of years I was probably more closely associated with the Communist party's united front movements than any other individual in this country."

After his erroneous information regarding Anna Rosenberg began to backfire, Matthews tried to slide out of all responsibility. He denied giving informaton to Benjamin Freedman, despite Freedman's testimony to the contrary. However, Matthews' letter to Russell Turner, assistant to Fulton Lewis, Jr., really put him on the spot.

"Here are the photostats, together with a memorandum on the Communist organizations with which A. R. (Anna Rosenberg) has, according to the public records, been affiliated," Matthews wrote on Nov. 27, 1950.

"On the question of whether or not the A. R. of these documents is the A. R., I can report there is not the slightest doubt. I have made exhaustive inquiries and investigations, as a result of which I have established beyond any possibility of dispute that there had been only one Anna Rosenberg sufficiently known in public life to be listed with the well-known names in these documents, and that there has not been any other Anna Rosenberg of comparable fame, stature, notoriety, or what have you during the past 25 years. One of my sources is a Jewish organization which knows about these things.

"Ben Mandel of the House Un-American Committee tells me that he told you Anna Rosenberg is a name like John Smith. My comment to that is 'nuts' "

The fact that the Senate unanimously reversed Matthews in regard to Mrs. Rosenberg and sent a special report to the Justice Department suggesting possible prosecution of witnesses for perjury should have been enough to stop Senator McCarthy from hiring him.

Catholic, Anti-McCarthyism

Interviews with Catholic leaders develop the fact that many thinking Catholics are dead opposed to McCarthy, don't like the fact that he has never married, or the fact that as a judge he granted quickie divorces.

On the other hand, "Our Sunday Visitor," largest circulating Catholic paper, published two articles by Father Richard Ginger vigorously supporting McCarthy simutaneously with publication of the Matthews charges against the Protestant clergy.

Unfortunately these helped to overshadow the fact that "America," organ of the Jesuits, differed with McCarthy over Adlai Stevenson last fall and that "Commonweal," Catholic lay weekly, published a stirring statement by Father Leon Sullivan, once imprisoned by Chinese Communists which read:

"I would rather return to my Chinese Communist prison cell than avail myself of Senator McCarthy's 'protection.' He is as great, if not a greater threat to American freedom than the military might of the Kremlin, and believe me I do not underestimate either the Kremlin's might or its cleverness.

"My missionary career in China ended in a Communist court in which accusations were taken as facts, charges as proofs and in which the police announced that 'defense is not necessary; we never make a mistake; when we arrest you, you're guilty; a defense is only necessary in corrupt bourgeois society where they have corrupt officials.'

"As a result of that experience," continued Father Sullivan, "I cling desperately to a principle that is one of the foundation stones of our democratic way of life, the principle that a man is innocent until he is proven guilty. God help all of us if we ever abandon that principle.

"If we must betray democracy in order to save it, why bother?"

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The government of Red China presided over by Mao Tse-Tung is not going to sign the armistice in Korea. Yet this same government was formally declared by resolution of the United Nations in February 1951 to be an aggressor.

The government of Red China whose capital is at Peiping is not to be responsible for honoring the terms of the armistice in Korea, where more than 1,000,000 Communist Chinese troops are stationed.

So, if the armistice is signed, the only parties legally bound by the agreement will be the United Nations and the weak and inconsequential puppet regime of the so-called North Korean government.

Bad Feeling Exists

Within the last few days the losses of the South Korean armies have been very heavy in resisting a Chinese Communist offensive. There is bad feeling in Korea, where rumors are current among the people that the United States military command actually has rationed ammunition and thus contributed to the heavy casualties.

Members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for the most part feel that Rhee is being threatened with a policing of his troops by the United Nations command, especially if he doesn't sign the armistice. The letter from General Mark Clark assuring the Communists that the UN would take over the discipline of the South Koreans has caused an unfavorable impression on Capitol Hill. Yet no measures are being taken to compel the Red Chinese government to own up to its part in the Korean War and sign the armistice.

Senator Knowland, acting Republican leader, has issued, with the knowledge but not with the consent of the White House, a statement in which he says in part:

"Under the armistice as negotiated for the past two years, the fiction was established and maintained that the only Communist forces in Korea were and are the People's Republic of Korea and the Chinese People's Volunteers. The Chinese Communist regime, which has been declared the aggressor by the United Nations and which supplied most of the armed forces, and with the help of the Soviet Union supplied the planes, tanks, guns and ammunition, has not been a party to the negotiations, does not sign the armistice and does not guarantee that the armistice will be respected once it is entered into.

"In effect, the responsibility of the Chinese Communist regime of Mao Tse-Tung for making aggression or keeping the peace is ignored. No responsible official of that regime signs or underwrites anything. We, however, will be obligated, if and when we sign, by the signature of General Mark Clark, U. S. Army and commander of the United Nations Command.

Turning Point Of History

"It is my personal belief, which I state on my responsibility as a senator of the United States, that we have now arrived at one of the great turning points of history."

When the truce negotiations began, on June 30, 1951, General Ridgway addressed the Red representative as the "commander-in-chief of the Communist forces in Korea." When the reply came, it was signed by the "commander of the Chinese volunteer forces."

On July 4, 1951, this correspondent wrote: "One of the reasons the American government has ordered Gen. Ridgway to ask to see credentials of the opposing commanders is that an armistice made with a group of 'volunteers' could be repudiated by the Peiping regime any time in the future. Unless the Communist authority in Peiping in some way assumes responsibility for what is being done by Gen. Peng Teh-Huai, there can hardly be any agreement that would assure the honoring of the armistice once hostilities are stopped."

Vacation

This essay slants toward the vacationers. There are many ways of vacationing. Some go to London "to look at the queen" and afterward to do "Yurrup," and come home tired out and needing a rest before going back to work.

Some, weary of the daily grind, plan a visit with wife's relatives at "Griggsby Station" where eating is good and perfect relaxation is possible.

Still others would like to have a vacation, but their work is so confining and their purse so flat that they can't leave town without the risk of losing their job, and this they can't afford to let happen.

One wise man found a substitute: he "traveled extensively in his back yard this summer," observing the birds, the bees, the bugs, the beetles, and the butterflies.

Mother Nature is kind to all of us in providing automatically a form of vacation which in the long run is more satisfying than the golf links, the boardwalk, or the dude ranch. Like the air we breathe, we are hardly aware that it exists, much less that its importance is so great that we couldn't keep house without it. A few instances may clear the point:

The human heart beats over two billion times in an average lifetime, every day lifting the weight of one ton to the height of 75 feet. This gigantic work could never be performed but for the fact that between the heartbeats there is a "vacation" period when the organ is at rest, and the total of these rest periods amounts to four months out of every year — quite a liberal allowance one would think.

Maybe a chance reader who "knows his engines" will bear me out in saying that the little dingus that makes possible the transportation of heavy freight lies in the play in the couplings. If the train were welded into a single unit the force of an earthquake would be required to start it, and a harnessed hydrogen bomb would be required to keep it going. But, by manipulating the slack 6,000 horsepower in Diesels can do the trick easily and with power to spare.

There are various ideas about the meaning of the cackling of a hen after she lays an egg. Is it a benign notice that you are to have a fresh egg for your breakfast? It is a note of pride?

Charles Frederick Goss, preacher, author, newspaperman at the turn of the century, said it is a note of despair, meaning, in hen language, "I have done it this time, but I can never do it again."

But as she forages in strawstacks and neighbors' gardens and drinks from the old mill stream, her self-confidence mounts as she begins to feel that under proper conditions she might lay another egg; and when the time comes she actually does. And so alternating between hope and despair she rounds out her season's quota, after which she takes her sabbatical, and nests or goes to market in the expectation of a return engagement next season.

Rather a homely conceit, but these short and simple annals of the poor hen have significance for mortals, as Goss points out.

We all have our ups and downs, our triumphs and disasters. We must never let our failures keep us down, for they are part and parcel of our later successes.

Someone said to James Whitcomb Riley, "I understand you get $5 for every word you write." "That is so," replied the Hoosier poet, "but there are days and days when I can't think of a single word." Shall we say those vacuous days were lost? Hardly. Great new ideas were incubating.

An understudy of Edison's offered his resignation, saying he had been with him two years now, and hadn't invented a single thing. Edison replied: "You have found out a hundred things that won't work, and that is much."

Monotony is a form of spiritual paralysis. We must get rid of it or it will get us down. Housewives, by the nature of their work, are most susceptible to its attack. Many find their escape in canasta or club or other form of social activity. Her domestic routine falls under three categories: forenoon, afternoon, and night. Edward Rowland Sill counsels: "Make this forenoon sublime, this afternoon a psalm, this night a prayer, and Time is conquered, and thy crown is won."

Everlastingness, per se, has but little if any appeal to most people. There is in it too much of the monotony from which we seek to escape. But when purpose, and growth, expansion, quality, and such spiritual dimensions are added, the prospect of the future life becomes most fascinating.

William Lyon Phelps said: "Except in moments of black depression, I have never been in a frame of mind when I didn't want to live. I should like to live in New Haven for the next 500 years; and as far as the activities of the next world are concerned I already have work enough blocked out to keep me busy the next two or three trillion years, and at the end of that time it is probable that something new will turn up."

Yours for plenty of work, with vacations,

BROTHER BARNABAS.

Intent

The main purpose of an intelligence organization of any country is to gather, evaluate and utilize information on the intent of friend and foe alike. Intent is a matter of evaluation and may involve a certain amount of estimating, assuming, and even crystal gazing. A competent intelligence organization does not rule out any possibility; it tries not to be caught short and then have to alibi its failure to forecast the conduct of other nations. It exists to do forecasting and its officials are paid to do precisely that.

The public and even the press know very little about the intelligence activities of our country. They are necessarily secretive and should remain so. It used to be that the Army, Navy, and State Departments functioned independently, gathering their own data and making their own estimates. When this system was in vogue, each department sent copies of data to the others; but each made its own evaluations.

In World War II, the OSS came into existence as a super-espionage organization to specialize in difficult operations. It was over-advertised and glamorized which is never necessary for espionage. That spy is best who is least known or noticed. A hidden organization can become overt through a minor indiscretion, thus imperilling the lives of agents. For instance, the single defection of Guzenko in Canada led to the exposure of the whole of Soviet Russia's espionage apparatus in the Western world.

Finally, the Central Intelligence Agency was organized to meet all the needs of the country for intelligence and espionage. The CIA is a large, independent arm of government with a huge budget. If its judgments and evaluations are correct, it can be of the greatest value and whatever is spent on it is justified. If its estimates are wrong and the agencies of government, from the President down, operate on incorrectly evaluated data, then the danger to the country can be enormous.

Therefore the CIA, which gathers, eliminates and evaluates both strategic and tactical data, is a tremendously important agency of government. At present, the CIA is managed by Allen Dulles, brother of the secretary of State. His predecessor was General Walter Bedell Smith, now under secretary of State and one of the closest advisers to General Eisenhower.

It is quite clear from all available data that the intent of the Germans to attack in what came to be known as the Battle of the Bulge could have and should have been known. American intelligence was inadequate, particularly as to the intent of the Germans. There are many explanations of why we failed to know the German intent, but none of them is even plausible.

To cite two more instances: it should have been known, in the early stages of the Korean War, that Chinese troops were marching from Canton to Manchuria to come to the relief of the North Koreans who had been defeated by General MacArthur. A controversy developed as to whether General Charles A. Willoughby, MacArthur's intelligence officer, or the CIA was badly informed. Willoughby blames the CIA and the CIA blames Willoughby. The fact is that an intention of the Chinese Communists, many months in the making and actually in process, was not known to our command until the Chinese struck at us.

Similarly, President Syngman Rhee publicly stated his intention to adopt an independent attitude toward anti-Communist prisoners of war unless the Republic of Korea got a square deal out of the so-called truce. This statement of intent on the part of the Republic of Korea was evaluated incorrectly as a bluff. It turned out to be startlingly real.

Evaluation is difficult, requiring not only enormous fundamental knowledge but keen judgment. It would be stupid to assume that evaluation will always be correct and that any human being possesses godlike wisdom.

Nevertheless, when the stakes are so high, too many errors of judgment cannot be lightly accepted as average human error. That can be too costly.

An intelligence organization must be sensitive to the intent of every other country. It should have, for instance, anticipated the development of neutralism. However, no intelligence organization can or should be responsible for overt acts to correct discovered intentions. Espionage discovers; other agencies act on the discoveries. Otherwise, the intelligence organization becomes another State Department and defies the reason for its existence.

HARVEST TIME...

When the harvest comes the farmer reaps his grain, threshes and stores it, and soon it is on its way to the markets of the world.

The girl pictured above, posing amid the wheat shocks, takes the mind back to the days of Ruth of the Bible when the maidens of Judea gleaned the fields and gathered the sheaves behind the reapers of Boaz.

But sowing and reaping are not confined to the earthly fields of the physical world. In our moral and spiritual relations we are constantly scattering seed and reaping the results of our sowing.

If we cultivate the field of the spirit, and sow good words, good deeds and good thoughts, we will have an abundant harvest of the fruits of the spirit—peace and joy, hope and faith and love.

Those who sow to the spirit will find the Church an invaluable helper and the Bible an infallible guide.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HARVEST TIME...

When the harvest comes the farmer reaps his grain, threshes and stores it, and soon it is on its way to the markets of the world.

The girl pictured above, posing amid the wheat shocks, takes the mind back to the days of Ruth of the Bible when the maidens of Judea gleaned the fields and gathered the sheaves behind the reapers of Boaz.

But sowing and reaping are not confined to the earthly fields of the physical world. In our moral and spiritual relations we are constantly scattering seed and reaping the results of our sowing.

If we cultivate the field of the spirit, and sow good words, good deeds and good thoughts, we will have an abundant harvest of the fruits of the spirit—peace and joy, hope and faith and love.

Those who sow to the spirit will find the Church an invaluable helper and the Bible an infallible guide.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Virginia Shipway Elected National FHA Regional Veep

For the first time an Allegany countian has been elected to office in the National Future Homemakers of America.

Miss Virginia Lee Shipway was elected vice president of the North Atlantic Region at the convention in Columbus, Ohio, July 3-6. She was presented a corsage of red roses by the four other Maryland girls attending, Miss Rosalie Leather, Miss Patricia Smith, Hagerstown; Miss Mary Lou Smith, Hyattsville and Miss Shirle Moss, eastern shore. About 2,000 members attended from every state in the union, Hawaii and Porto Rico.

The opening ceremony was conducted by Mary Ellen McKaye, Wisconsin, national president. The group was welcomed to Ohio and responses made by the Pacific, Southern and North Atlantic regions. A skit, "Miss Etiquette Arrives," was presented by the Central Region.

Discussion groups featured the sessions July 4. Miss Shipway attended those on "Ways to get girls interested in FHA;" "how to keep them interested in the senior years;" and "ways of making money for the club." It was decided the responsibility of members is to set a good example, and came to the conclusion that it is well to let members take a big part in the activities to use co-chairmen on committees and let each member work on at least one committee a year.

During the business sessions amendments to the constitution were read and the group voted on models for the FHA jackets and reports of the committees given by the regional vice presidents. Talks were given to Miss Marguerite Scruggs, national advisor and William Martin, Jr., who writes children's stories and has a TV show.

A pageant was presented with girls from each state participating. Miss Shipway was in the president's parade of states and the other Maryland girls presented Betsy Ross and her ladies in waiting. The all state chorus sang, "This Is My Country," for the opening and closing. The girls from Hawaii presented each member with an orchid and corsages to Miss Scruggs and Miss Catherine Dicks, her assistant. Group singing was led by Miss Shipway. A Hawaiian dance was done by the girl from there and a Spanish dance by the girl from Tennessee.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Shipway, Jr., Green Ridge, Miss Shipway is president of the Maryland FHA and past president of the Flintstone chapter, the only one in Allegany county. She was the county representative in the Farm Queen contest last year at timmonium.

The Flintstone Chapter will resume meetings in September.

Virginia Shipway Elected National FHA Regional Veep

For the first time an Allegany countian has been elected to office in the National Future Homemakers of America.

Miss Virginia Lee Shipway was elected vice president of the North Atlantic Region at the convention in Columbus, Ohio, July 3-6. She was presented a corsage of red roses by the four other Maryland girls attending, Miss Rosalie Leather, Miss Patricia Smith, Hagerstown; Miss Mary Lou Smith, Hyattsville and Miss Shirle Moss, eastern shore. About 2,000 members attended from every state in the union, Hawaii and Porto Rico.

The opening ceremony was conducted by Mary Ellen McKaye, Wisconsin, national president. The group was welcomed to Ohio and responses made by the Pacific, Southern and North Atlantic regions. A skit, "Miss Etiquette Arrives," was presented by the Central Region.

Discussion groups featured the sessions July 4. Miss Shipway attended those on "Ways to get girls interested in FHA;" "how to keep them interested in the senior years;" and "ways of making money for the club." It was decided the responsibility of members is to set a good example, and came to the conclusion that it is well to let members take a big part in the activities to use co-chairmen on committees and let each member work on at least one committee a year.

During the business sessions amendments to the constitution were read and the group voted on models for the FHA jackets and reports of the committees given by the regional vice presidents. Talks were given to Miss Marguerite Scruggs, national advisor and William Martin, Jr., who writes children's stories and has a TV show.

A pageant was presented with girls from each state participating. Miss Shipway was in the president's parade of states and the other Maryland girls presented Betsy Ross and her ladies in waiting. The all state chorus sang, "This Is My Country," for the opening and closing. The girls from Hawaii presented each member with an orchid and corsages to Miss Scruggs and Miss Catherine Dicks, her assistant. Group singing was led by Miss Shipway. A Hawaiian dance was done by the girl from there and a Spanish dance by the girl from Tennessee.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Shipway, Jr., Green Ridge, Miss Shipway is president of the Maryland FHA and past president of the Flintstone chapter, the only one in Allegany county. She was the county representative in the Farm Queen contest last year at timmonium.

The Flintstone Chapter will resume meetings in September.

Gen. Gruenther To Assume Command Of SHAPE Today

Third Leader Faces Toughest Task Of All

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Powers in Europe, July 10 (AP) — Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther tomorrow will become supreme Allied commander in Europe. He will be the third American to tackle the job of whipping up effective West European defense.

Gruenther's task will be the toughest of them all for these reasons:

1. Western Europe is no longer trembling with fear of a Soviet invasion in the way it was when Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower became the first supreme commander early in 1951.

2. The Allies are no longer defenseless, as they virtually were in early 1952 when Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway took over the job.

Like Pulling Teeth

3. The mumbling demand of the Allies for a stretchout in defense spending has broken out in full voice. From now on, every dollar Gruenther gets out of the 14 NATO countries is expected to be something like pulling a tooth.

4. The growing anti-American feeling in Europe—aimed at the American military and particularly at the large number of American officers in top jobs at SHAPE—looms as a major headache.

A spokesman at supreme headquarters said tonight that Gruenther had been called to Washington to testify before a U. S. Senate budgetary committee and will leave here Sunday, only 24 hours after taking over his command. Ridgway is expected to leave for Washington Saturday.

Recently Russia's "peace offensive" and flareups among the Soviet satellites have constituted a major psychological barrier to getting the Western Allies to give their defense efforts an all-out push. What changes, if any, in the Russian approach will follow the purge of Lavrenty P. Beria is not yet clear.

Has Made Progress

Western Europe unquestionably has made remarkable progress in building up its defenses, but these are still weak compared with the military might of Russia and her satellites. As a shrewd military planner, Gruenther can be expected to concern himself more with what the Soviet-dominated powers can do to the West than with the unanswerable question of what they intend to do.

The NATO Allies have served notice on Gruenther they are no longer in such a hurry to reach their declared defense goals. Their feeling of security increases daily as they watch a network of 125 airfields sprouting in Western Europe and some 2,300 warplanes flying from these fields. They also see a first line army of 250,000 men poised along the 4,000 mile East-West front and, including the Turkish and Greek units, a land force of 98 divisions nearing attainment.

Princess Margaret Suffers From Cold

SALISBURY, Rhodesia, July 10 (AP) — Britain's Princess Margaret, who is suffering from a heavy cold, today withdrew temporarily from her tour of Central Africa with Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother. She flew here from Umtali to rest a few days at government house. The Queen Mother will join her here Sunday.

U. S. Incomes $284 Billion

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—The personal incomes of Americans reached an annual rate of 284 billion dollars in May, a level one billion dollars above the April rate.

Private wages and salaries went up about one-half billion dollars while the income paid federal, state and local government workers was unchanged, the Commerce Department's monthly report showed today.

The improved payments in private employment reflected mainly higher income in retail and wholesale trade. Factory and construction earnings rose only slightly; they had been virtually stable for several months.

The income of proprietors and landlords rose, and farm income climbed because of cash receipts from the marketing of crops. However, farm income for the first five months of the year stood at an annual rate of $17,600,000,000, considerably below the $19,800,000,000 recorded in the same portion of last year.

Over-all personal income, farm and non-farm, for the five month period was at an annual rate of 282 billion dollars, 7 per cent higher than in the same period of 1952.

Warned Against Polio

NEW YORK, July 10 (AP)—Radio Free Europe said today its radio stations are warning youths in Communist countries not to attend a Red-sponsored World Youth Festival in Bucharest, Romania, next month because of a serious polio epidemic there.

House Group Slashes Civil Defense Fund

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP) —The Republican-led House Appropriations Committee today questioned the "austerity" aspects of one of President Eisenhower's budget figures and slashed deeply into his requests for new money.

The committee, led by Rep. Taber (R-NY), recommended an 84 per cent cut in the $1,069,996,084 requested originally by former President Truman for civil defense, the Voice of America, Air Force base construction, and other activities.

The revised total submitted to the House for action next week was $168,155,584. Much of the money supplements funds already appropriated for the fiscal year that started July 1.

Eisenhower gave the committee his own estimates in some cases but no over-all comparison with the Truman budget was possible because the need for additional funds arose in some instances after Truman left office.

The crack about Eisenhower's austerity program came in connection with an administration request for doubling an item in the Voice of America budget to cover the cost of diplomatic parties. Some House members claim this includes liquor bills.

"It was represented to the committee that the revised budget estimate was an austerity budget. However, when there is included in that budget a request to double the amount of representation allowances from $50,000 to $100,000, the austerity of such a budget is highly questionable."

Representation allowances is a term that includes paying for diplomatic functions and other niceties.

In its major cutting operations, the committee recommended that Eisenhower's request for 400 million dollars for Air Force construction be trimmed to zero. Truman had asked for 700 million. The committee approved $240,776,000 for the work but ordered that it be taken from funds left over from previous appropriations.

For the Civil Defense Administration, Taber's group recommended $37,770,000. This compares with 150 million asked by Truman and approximately 125 million sought by Eisenhower.

VA Hospitals Are Not Abused

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP) — The American Legion today disputed charges that war veterans suffering ailments not connected with military service have flagrantly abused the free hospital privileges set up by law.

Robert M. McCurdy, chairman of the Legion's rehabilitation commission, asserted that the Legion had investigated allegations that a large number of veterans receiving treatment for non-service ailments were well able to pay for private hospitalization.

"Our studies, which we believe are the first to appear on this controversial question, have disproved the allegation that there is any flagrant violation of the privilege of non-service connected hospitalization," he asserted.

"These reports of findings support our belief that the hospitalized veteran, aside from the service connected, the mentally ill and the chronic, is the man who is sick, broke, and has no place other than the Veterans Administration to go."

McCurdy testified before the House Veterans Committee, which is considering proposals to clamp down on free medical and hospital treatment for veterans able to pay for it.

Women Accuse Ex-Councilman Of Hitting Them

BALTIMORE, July 10 (AP) — Two women today charged C. Markland Kelly, 60-year-old former city council president, with hitting them.

The warrant signed by Mrs. Ralene Wasserman accused the automobile dealer with "assault with intent to kill" on July 7.

Miss Marina M. Schultz charged Kelly with "assaulting and striking" her during the months of May, June and July.

Max R. Israelson, attorney for the two women, said 18-year-old Miss Schultz and Mrs. Wasserman are housekeepers in Kelly's Charles Street home.

Kelly was arrested by police at his automobile agency and posted $1,250 bail at Northern police station pending a hearing on the charges.

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP) —The Republican-led House Appropriations Committee today questioned the "austerity" aspects of one of President Eisenhower's budget figures and slashed deeply into his requests for new money.

The committee, led by Rep. Taber (R-NY), recommended an 84 per cent cut in the $1,069,996,084 requested originally by former President Truman for civil defense, the Voice of America, Air Force base construction, and other activities.

The revised total submitted to the House for action next week was $168,155,584. Much of the money supplements funds already appropriated for the fiscal year that started July 1.

Eisenhower gave the committee his own estimates in some cases but no over-all comparison with the Truman budget was possible because the need for additional funds arose in some instances after Truman left office.

The crack about Eisenhower's austerity program came in connection with an administration request for doubling an item in the Voice of America budget to cover the cost of diplomatic parties. Some House members claim this includes liquor bills.

"It was represented to the committee that the revised budget estimate was an austerity budget. However, when there is included in that budget a request to double the amount of representation allowances from $50,000 to $100,000, the austerity of such a budget is highly questionable."

Representation allowances is a term that includes paying for diplomatic functions and other niceties.

In its major cutting operations, the committee recommended that Eisenhower's request for 400 million dollars for Air Force construction be trimmed to zero. Truman had asked for 700 million. The committee approved $240,776,000 for the work but ordered that it be taken from funds left over from previous appropriations.

For the Civil Defense Administration, Taber's group recommended $37,770,000. This compares with 150 million asked by Truman and approximately 125 million sought by Eisenhower.

VA Hospitals Are Not Abused

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP) — The American Legion today disputed charges that war veterans suffering ailments not connected with military service have flagrantly abused the free hospital privileges set up by law.

Robert M. McCurdy, chairman of the Legion's rehabilitation commission, asserted that the Legion had investigated allegations that a large number of veterans receiving treatment for non-service ailments were well able to pay for private hospitalization.

"Our studies, which we believe are the first to appear on this controversial question, have disproved the allegation that there is any flagrant violation of the privilege of non-service connected hospitalization," he asserted.

"These reports of findings support our belief that the hospitalized veteran, aside from the service connected, the mentally ill and the chronic, is the man who is sick, broke, and has no place other than the Veterans Administration to go."

McCurdy testified before the House Veterans Committee, which is considering proposals to clamp down on free medical and hospital treatment for veterans able to pay for it.

Women Accuse Ex-Councilman Of Hitting Them

BALTIMORE, July 10 (AP) — Two women today charged C. Markland Kelly, 60-year-old former city council president, with hitting them.

The warrant signed by Mrs. Ralene Wasserman accused the automobile dealer with "assault with intent to kill" on July 7.

Miss Marina M. Schultz charged Kelly with "assaulting and striking" her during the months of May, June and July.

Max R. Israelson, attorney for the two women, said 18-year-old Miss Schultz and Mrs. Wasserman are housekeepers in Kelly's Charles Street home.

Kelly was arrested by police at his automobile agency and posted $1,250 bail at Northern police station pending a hearing on the charges.

39 Boys Will Compete In 6th Soap Box Derby Here Today

Drawings Are Made For Penn Avenue Event

Program Opens 1 P.M., George Day's Time Fastest In Trials

Everything is in readiness for Cumberland's sixth annual Soap Box Derby which will get under way today at 1 p. m., on Pennsylvania Avenue.

Announcement was made last night that thirty-nine boys from the tri-state area have their coasters tuned up for the big event which is co-sponsored by the Cumberland Times-News and Eiler Chevrolet, Inc.

Winner of today's race will qualify for the All-American Soap Box Derby to be held at Akron, Ohio, next month.

Past Cumberland winners were: Willard "Dickey" Burns, Keyser, 1948; Neal Jones, Midland, 1949; Ernesto Mellon, McCoole, 1950; Ricardo Mellon, McCoole, 1951, and Bobby Gero, Cumberland, 1952.

Drawings were made last night at the Eiler Garage inspection center where Miss Carolyn Deck, "Miss Western Maryland of 1953," drew the names from a hat as well as lanes to which the contestants will be assigned for the first-round races.

Day's Time Is Fastest

In yesterday's trial runs, the fastest time of 30 2/5 seconds was turned in by George Day, 15, of 1508 Frederick street, who lost out in the finals last year to Bobby Gero. The fastest time last year was 28 seconds, credited to Jimmy Mellon, of McCoole, who cracked up in the 1952 event. Mellon's time yesterday was 31 seconds flat for a new car.

Trial runs went off without a mishap, although four boys were not allowed to take tests due to brake and steering deficiences discovered at the track. Of the 39 contestants in today's event, 21 will vie in Class "A" and 18 in Class "B".

Jaycees In Charge

Members of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, headed by Bill Lowery, general chairman, will be in charge of the running of today's program. Bruce Douglas will be the official starter.

The program will start off with the second annual running of the Gasless Buggy event featuring adult drivers representing four local service clubs, Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions and Optimists.

James L. Weber will drive the Rotary car, Elwood Rosencranze, Optimist; Dr. William Allen, Lions, and Charles Helmrich, Kiwanis.

Ben Hogan Wins British Open, Breaks Course Record With 68

Texan's 282 Enables Him To Cop Golfdom's Triple Crown, $1,400

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, July 10 (AP)—Ben Hogan won the British Open golf championship today with a 282 to take his place forever beside Bobby Jones at the summit of all golf.

Ben Hogan

The little Texan — grim and greyish — blue from near exhaustion and influenza which struck him this morning — accomplished his feat on Carnoustie, justifiably one of the most feared courses in the world.

Breaks Course Record

On the last of his journeys around Carnoustie's 7,200 yards of tournament torture, Hogan broke the competitive course record with a 68.

That gave Hogan a 282—an advantage of four strokes over Amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio; Dai Rees, the tiny Welshman; Australia's Peter Thomson and Argentina's Antonio Cerda.

It was Rees and Scotsman Eric Brown who led the field as the golfers went to the first tee today with Hogan two strokes back, 142 to 144.

But the Texan, admittedly deathly tired, moved into a shore of the lead with Argentina's Roberto de Vincenzo after a spectacular 70 in the morning round.

Wins "Triple Crown"

Hogan's victory gave him golfdom's "triple crown"—the Augusta Masters, the U. S. Open, and the British Open. That is as close as a professional can get to the "impossible quadruple" that Bobby Jones won in 1930—the U. S. Open and Amateur and the British Open and Amateur. The Masters was not in existence then.

But one fair share of the glory of this day should go to Stranahan. The Toledo millionaire's son shot a 69.

He finished before Hogan came in and for two hours Stranahan was tied with Rees for the lead with 286.

Cerda, Rees and Thomson had 71's on this par 36-36—72 Championship course. But their fine scores were no match for the 68 and 69 by the Americans.

De Vincenzo took a 73 for a 287.

Victory Worth $1,400

For this victory Hogan won only $1,400—a small amount by American standards. But, this title and the feat of winning here in Scotland's foul weather is worth an untold sum in prestige and money.

Fort Cumberland Post exploded for four tallies in the fifth inning to defeat Midland Post in a Mountain District, American Legion Junior Baseball League game yesterday at Fort Hill. The score was 5-2.

It was the sixth consecutive victory for the league leaders and the fourth defeat in six starts for the 1952 district champions.

Bobby Dawson went the route for the local team to post his third victory. He gave up six hits, fanned seven and issued five free tickets. Henry Lloyd pitched six-hit ball for Midland and held a 1-0 lead until the fifth when singles by Puffenberger and Dawson, coupled with an error, walk, fielder's choice and Bob Kirtley's double produced four runs and gave Fort Cumberland the ball game. Singles by Yantz, Gray and Winters scored Midland's first run. Two errors paved the way for the visitors' final tally in the 7th.

Bobby Blank outpitched Fred Colaw at Frostburg to give Farrady Post a 5-1 victory over the tossers of Grantsville.

The Mountain City nine rallied for three runs in the fifth inning to break a 1-1 deadlock.

Blank yielded four hits, issued seven walks and struck out seven Grantsville stickers. Rickey Harris garnered two of the seven blows given up by Fred Colaw. Doubles by Layton and Blank were the game's only extra base wallops.

Earl Clark, Frostburg left fielder, turned in two nice running catches while Toby Colaw starred at first base for the Garrett countians. The boxes:

Yankee Homers Give Lopat 6-1 Win Over Nats

New Yorkers Tee Off On Bob Porterfield

NEW YORK, July 10 (AP) — Irv Noren, Don Bollweg and Yogi Berra hit home runs to knock out Bob Porterfield today as the New York Yankees downed Washington, 6-1, for Eddie Lopat's ninth victory.

Porterfield, who blanked the Yanks Sunday, simply didn't have it as he tried for his sixth shutout of the year. He was wild and, when he got it over, the Yanks hit it into the seats.

A running catch by Jim Busby on Berra's long drive saved Porterfield from trouble in the first. A walk to Hank Bauer and a single by Eddie Lopat with two out set the scene for Noren's three-run homer in the second, his sixth of the year.

Bollweg led off the third with his fourth homer of the year and Berra smashed his 10th into the right field stands after Mickey Mantle walked. Porterfield steadied to retire the next two men but, after he walked Phil Rizzuto, Manager Bucky Harris called in lefthanded Al Sima.

Posts Low Score 74; Simpson, Davis, Rice Also Go To Bethesda

Thomas Buser shot a sparkling 40-34—74 to lead qualifiers in the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce's junior golf tournament yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club.

It marked the third time that Buser had qualified for the district championship event of 36 holes which will be held Monday at 9 a. m. at the Georgetown Prep course in Bethesda, Md.

Three other local caddies who qualified for the district tourney yesterday were Bill Simpson 44-35—79; Jimmy Davis 41-39—80 and Bill Rice 46-38—84. George Eskin, son of Dr. Albert C. Eskin, who is a CCC golfer, became alternate by shooting a 52-39—91. It was the second time Simpson and Davis had qualified.

Following completion of yesterday's 18-hole test, in which there were 18 entrants, the players were guests of the local Jaycees at luncheon. Francis R. Torrington was chairman of the local tournament.

Ray Dorn, president of the local Jaycees, will head the local golfing delegation to Bethesda next week. The four low scorers there will participate in the Jaycees' national championship event at Ann Arbor, Michigan, August 17 to 22.

39 Boys Will Compete In 6th Soap Box Derby Here Today

Drawings Are Made For Penn Avenue Event

Program Opens 1 P.M., George Day's Time Fastest In Trials

Everything is in readiness for Cumberland's sixth annual Soap Box Derby which will get under way today at 1 p. m., on Pennsylvania Avenue.

Announcement was made last night that thirty-nine boys from the tri-state area have their coasters tuned up for the big event which is co-sponsored by the Cumberland Times-News and Eiler Chevrolet, Inc.

Winner of today's race will qualify for the All-American Soap Box Derby to be held at Akron, Ohio, next month.

Past Cumberland winners were: Willard "Dickey" Burns, Keyser, 1948; Neal Jones, Midland, 1949; Ernesto Mellon, McCoole, 1950; Ricardo Mellon, McCoole, 1951, and Bobby Gero, Cumberland, 1952.

Drawings were made last night at the Eiler Garage inspection center where Miss Carolyn Deck, "Miss Western Maryland of 1953," drew the names from a hat as well as lanes to which the contestants will be assigned for the first-round races.

Day's Time Is Fastest

In yesterday's trial runs, the fastest time of 30 2/5 seconds was turned in by George Day, 15, of 1508 Frederick street, who lost out in the finals last year to Bobby Gero. The fastest time last year was 28 seconds, credited to Jimmy Mellon, of McCoole, who cracked up in the 1952 event. Mellon's time yesterday was 31 seconds flat for a new car.

Trial runs went off without a mishap, although four boys were not allowed to take tests due to brake and steering deficiences discovered at the track. Of the 39 contestants in today's event, 21 will vie in Class "A" and 18 in Class "B".

Jaycees In Charge

Members of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, headed by Bill Lowery, general chairman, will be in charge of the running of today's program. Bruce Douglas will be the official starter.

The program will start off with the second annual running of the Gasless Buggy event featuring adult drivers representing four local service clubs, Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions and Optimists.

James L. Weber will drive the Rotary car, Elwood Rosencranze, Optimist; Dr. William Allen, Lions, and Charles Helmrich, Kiwanis.

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, July 10 (AP)—Ben Hogan won the British Open golf championship today with a 282 to take his place forever beside Bobby Jones at the summit of all golf.

Ben Hogan

The little Texan — grim and greyish — blue from near exhaustion and influenza which struck him this morning — accomplished his feat on Carnoustie, justifiably one of the most feared courses in the world.

Breaks Course Record

On the last of his journeys around Carnoustie's 7,200 yards of tournament torture, Hogan broke the competitive course record with a 68.

That gave Hogan a 282—an advantage of four strokes over Amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio; Dai Rees, the tiny Welshman; Australia's Peter Thomson and Argentina's Antonio Cerda.

It was Rees and Scotsman Eric Brown who led the field as the golfers went to the first tee today with Hogan two strokes back, 142 to 144.

But the Texan, admittedly deathly tired, moved into a shore of the lead with Argentina's Roberto de Vincenzo after a spectacular 70 in the morning round.

Wins "Triple Crown"

Hogan's victory gave him golfdom's "triple crown"—the Augusta Masters, the U. S. Open, and the British Open. That is as close as a professional can get to the "impossible quadruple" that Bobby Jones won in 1930—the U. S. Open and Amateur and the British Open and Amateur. The Masters was not in existence then.

But one fair share of the glory of this day should go to Stranahan. The Toledo millionaire's son shot a 69.

He finished before Hogan came in and for two hours Stranahan was tied with Rees for the lead with 286.

Cerda, Rees and Thomson had 71's on this par 36-36—72 Championship course. But their fine scores were no match for the 68 and 69 by the Americans.

De Vincenzo took a 73 for a 287.

Victory Worth $1,400

For this victory Hogan won only $1,400—a small amount by American standards. But, this title and the feat of winning here in Scotland's foul weather is worth an untold sum in prestige and money.

It was the sixth consecutive victory for the league leaders and the fourth defeat in six starts for the 1952 district champions.

Bobby Dawson went the route for the local team to post his third victory. He gave up six hits, fanned seven and issued five free tickets. Henry Lloyd pitched six-hit ball for Midland and held a 1-0 lead until the fifth when singles by Puffenberger and Dawson, coupled with an error, walk, fielder's choice and Bob Kirtley's double produced four runs and gave Fort Cumberland the ball game. Singles by Yantz, Gray and Winters scored Midland's first run. Two errors paved the way for the visitors' final tally in the 7th.

Bobby Blank outpitched Fred Colaw at Frostburg to give Farrady Post a 5-1 victory over the tossers of Grantsville.

The Mountain City nine rallied for three runs in the fifth inning to break a 1-1 deadlock.

Blank yielded four hits, issued seven walks and struck out seven Grantsville stickers. Rickey Harris garnered two of the seven blows given up by Fred Colaw. Doubles by Layton and Blank were the game's only extra base wallops.

Earl Clark, Frostburg left fielder, turned in two nice running catches while Toby Colaw starred at first base for the Garrett countians. The boxes:

Yankee Homers Give Lopat 6-1 Win Over Nats

New Yorkers Tee Off On Bob Porterfield

NEW YORK, July 10 (AP) — Irv Noren, Don Bollweg and Yogi Berra hit home runs to knock out Bob Porterfield today as the New York Yankees downed Washington, 6-1, for Eddie Lopat's ninth victory.

Porterfield, who blanked the Yanks Sunday, simply didn't have it as he tried for his sixth shutout of the year. He was wild and, when he got it over, the Yanks hit it into the seats.

A running catch by Jim Busby on Berra's long drive saved Porterfield from trouble in the first. A walk to Hank Bauer and a single by Eddie Lopat with two out set the scene for Noren's three-run homer in the second, his sixth of the year.

Bollweg led off the third with his fourth homer of the year and Berra smashed his 10th into the right field stands after Mickey Mantle walked. Porterfield steadied to retire the next two men but, after he walked Phil Rizzuto, Manager Bucky Harris called in lefthanded Al Sima.

Posts Low Score 74; Simpson, Davis, Rice Also Go To Bethesda

Thomas Buser shot a sparkling 40-34—74 to lead qualifiers in the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce's junior golf tournament yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club.

It marked the third time that Buser had qualified for the district championship event of 36 holes which will be held Monday at 9 a. m. at the Georgetown Prep course in Bethesda, Md.

Three other local caddies who qualified for the district tourney yesterday were Bill Simpson 44-35—79; Jimmy Davis 41-39—80 and Bill Rice 46-38—84. George Eskin, son of Dr. Albert C. Eskin, who is a CCC golfer, became alternate by shooting a 52-39—91. It was the second time Simpson and Davis had qualified.

Following completion of yesterday's 18-hole test, in which there were 18 entrants, the players were guests of the local Jaycees at luncheon. Francis R. Torrington was chairman of the local tournament.

Ray Dorn, president of the local Jaycees, will head the local golfing delegation to Bethesda next week. The four low scorers there will participate in the Jaycees' national championship event at Ann Arbor, Michigan, August 17 to 22.

Drunks Arrested In Keyser May Have To Work

KEYSER — Local "winos" and others arrested for being drunk will henceforth be given work to do, if Mayor John C. Freeland carries out another of his plans for saving money for the city.

He said recently that instead of sending persons arrested for drunkenness to the Mineral County jail, he is going to give them work to do so that they can benefit the city, rather than "being an expense to the municipality.

"Some of our streets need some work done on them. Our drunks don't want to work, but if they drink it costs the city a daily price to take care of them each day. Keyser doesn't have that kind of money, and I'm not going to have these drunks in the jail where we will have to pay the county for giving them bed and board," said the mayor.

"We need the money for other things, and those persons who do nothing for themselves or the city will have to help work on the streets and pay with their labor."

Drunks Arrested In Keyser May Have To Work

KEYSER — Local "winos" and others arrested for being drunk will henceforth be given work to do, if Mayor John C. Freeland carries out another of his plans for saving money for the city.

He said recently that instead of sending persons arrested for drunkenness to the Mineral County jail, he is going to give them work to do so that they can benefit the city, rather than "being an expense to the municipality.

"Some of our streets need some work done on them. Our drunks don't want to work, but if they drink it costs the city a daily price to take care of them each day. Keyser doesn't have that kind of money, and I'm not going to have these drunks in the jail where we will have to pay the county for giving them bed and board," said the mayor.

"We need the money for other things, and those persons who do nothing for themselves or the city will have to help work on the streets and pay with their labor."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The next time your phone rings, it may be a bid for the biggest moment in your life. Will you be ready? Are you looking your best?

Beauty is something that cannot be captured in just a few hours. It is a continuous program, a day to day cultivation. It must be nurtured and coaxed into existence, bit by bit.

If you neglect your hair, for instance, even a whole day spent in a beauty salon cannot erase your carelessness. Unless your hair is in a soft, glistening and manageable condition, the most expert hair stylist in your town can't turn it into the crowning halo you deserve to have—and that men all hope to see when their eyes light on their special companion.

Penalty of Carelessness

At this time of year, too much sunning is almost sure to result in unmanageable hair that flies out of place. Not only does the hair dry out but so does the scalp. You know that this condition is yours when your hair is robbed of its natural luster. A tell-tale evidence around the shoulders of your clothes announces that your scalp is flaking off to an abnormal degree.

Put your fingers tips and hair brush to work, getting at the root of your trouble. Stimulate the circulation of blood to your scalp at once and consistently.

Bend over from your waist and give your hair and scalp a hundred brisk licks with your brush—not just today but every day. After each session, use both hands to massage your scalp with your finger tips. Start at your hairline at the nape of your neck. Work up until your hands meet at the crown of your head. Move systematically around until you have covered your entire scalp. Make this your daily routine until your hair glows and glistens with beauty.

A hot oil treatment once each week will hasten the desired loveliness. First warm a small quantity of oil. Part your hair straight down the center of your head. Using a bit of absorbent cotton, apply a touch of oil to each part until your entire scalp is covered at one-inch parts.

Steaming will help to make the oil penetrate. Wrap your head in a steaming hot towel for ten minutes. Then wash the oil out twice with a lanolin shampoo. Rinse in clear warm water at least three times.

Glistening, lustrous, manageable hair will be the reward of this fairly small bit of application. Try it—you'll be amazed at the ease with which you can coax your hair into beauteous lines!

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, July 10 (INS) — I couldn't believe my eyes when Guy Madison came to pay me a visit. Ten years ago he had a baby face and was on the plump side. Now he's lost 20 pounds and has the same lean, serious look as Gary Cooper.

The break-up of his marriage to Gail Russell has matured Guy. I doubt if they will make up although he says he has never loved anyone but Gail.

Guy told me that aside from his Warner contract (his next for them is "Rear Guard") he has formed his independent company.

"I have permission to make one outside picture a year," he told me, "and of course I continue my "Wild Bill Hickok' TV and radio series."

Far from being a one picture fling, "Melba" is just the stepping stone launching Patrice Munsel on a screen career.

She and her husband, Robert Schuler, leave for Italy the first week in August, where Patrice will star in a series of TV films which Schuler will produce.

Not too many opera stars have been hits in the movies, but Patrice,, who is so lovely, is an exception.

MGM's glamor girl, Lana Turner, returns to her home studio after she finishes "Flame and the Flesh." At least that's the plan now, because all ready for Missy Turner is "The True and the Brave,' a story about the Holland underground during the war.

Let me tell you that this original story by Roland Millard and George Froeschel offers the sort of dramatic role Lana has longed to play.

Well, I guess this ends for the time being rumors that Lana will do a picture for another company while she's in Europe.

I don't know when anything made me feel so badly as the loss of Janet Leigh's and Tony Curtis' expected baby.

Just a few hours before she was taken to the hospital Janet taped an addition to a show she, Tony and I are going to do, talking about the baby. She looked like a dream girl in a pink summer dress, and she talked continually of what she planned to do when the baby arrived.

"Nothing in my whole life," she said, "had had me as excited."

But then, she and Tony are young and there will be other children. Tony, too, so much wanted this child and the thing that has upset Janet as much as anything is his disappointment.

Now, what do you know about this! Steve Cochran's pet pooch, Tchaikowsky, who was always running away in Hollwood, did his usual trick in Munich and got lost.

Tchaiskowsky, who was with his master in Germany where Steve is making a picture, ran away, crossed into the Russian sector, and hasn't been heard from since. Steve, who loves his pooch, has written the Russians a letter asking them to please spare the life of his dog, who meant no harm.

Joan Bennett tosses a birthday party for Walter Wanger tomorrow night. The reconciliation seems solid.

Frances Heflin, off crutches for the first time in months, goes with Van to Madrid for the opening of Conrad Hilton's hotel. When they return, Van continues on the road with "The Shrike" for five weeks.

For their fifth month's wedding anniversary, Jacques Bergerac filled Ginger Roger's bedroom with five dozen American beauty roses.

Paul Gregory gets in tomorrow from Europe. He visited Ann Baxter in Munich, and Ann is practically water logged. It has rained there every day for a month!

Pretty Peggy Constance, who was voted Miss Starlight of the Hollywood Bowl, is the daughter of Gus Constance, maitre D at the Hollywood Brown Derby.

The pair which bid that way beat everybody else's score on this deal in a big tournament, making an extra trick in the small slam. The losing diamonds in North's hand were discarded on South's hearts.

That was ruffed, establishing the club K for a discard of a small diamond, so that only one trick was lost, in diamonds. There was one pretty spot in the bidding which got South into the truly expert contract of 6-Spades. After North had shown an adequate fit for rebid hearts with his 4-Hearts call, and South then bid 4-Spades, that bid might have been considered by North to be an ace-showing cue-bid. In that event, North's 5-Spades might have meant a showing of second round control with the K. But since South had that card, he felt sure the 5-Spades proclaimed four-card support for a four-card suit. South's 6-Spades then became the winning act.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of John Spinetta who died 10 years ago today, July 11, 1943.
Theirs is a home not made by hands,
Beyond its golden door
Awaits the one who is gone away,
Not lost, just gone before.
Sadly missed by his Mother, Brothers and Daughter, Delores.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of John Spinetta who died 10 years ago today, July 11, 1943.

Theirs is a home not made by hands,
Beyond its golden door
Awaits the one who is gone away,
Not lost, just gone before.

Sadly missed by his Mother, Brothers and Daughter, Delores.

Stock Market Steps Warily As Prices Decline Slightly

NEW YORK, July 10 (AP) — The Stock Market stepped along warily today with prices declining slightly.

Traders cited two causes for the caution—the purge of Beria and impending House action on the excess profits tax extension.

Motion picture issues were helped by the House Ways and Means move to kill the 20 per cent admissions tax. Most held steady to higher. Air lines were another favored group in the midst of reports of heavy current sales and income. Motors turned in a steady performance as did the utilities. In the lower category were rails, steels, oils, coppers, aircrafts, and most chemicals.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 30 cents, the same as yesterday, and stood at $108.50. Volume backed down as prices fell and came to 860,000 shares, second lowest this week.

Among declining stocks were Southern Railway, Atlantic Coast Line, Sinclair Oil, Amerada Petroleum, Cities Service, Consolidated Edison, Kennecott Copper, Homestake Mining, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Studebaker, Allied Chemical and General Electric.

Gainers included American Telephone, Dow Chemical, International Paper, Auto Car, Paramount Pictures, Warner Bros., and 20th Century-Fox.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed. Corporate bonds were steady. U. S. governments in the over the counter market were also steady.

Stock Market Steps Warily As Prices Decline Slightly

NEW YORK, July 10 (AP) — The Stock Market stepped along warily today with prices declining slightly.

Traders cited two causes for the caution—the purge of Beria and impending House action on the excess profits tax extension.

Motion picture issues were helped by the House Ways and Means move to kill the 20 per cent admissions tax. Most held steady to higher. Air lines were another favored group in the midst of reports of heavy current sales and income. Motors turned in a steady performance as did the utilities. In the lower category were rails, steels, oils, coppers, aircrafts, and most chemicals.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 30 cents, the same as yesterday, and stood at $108.50. Volume backed down as prices fell and came to 860,000 shares, second lowest this week.

Among declining stocks were Southern Railway, Atlantic Coast Line, Sinclair Oil, Amerada Petroleum, Cities Service, Consolidated Edison, Kennecott Copper, Homestake Mining, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Studebaker, Allied Chemical and General Electric.

Gainers included American Telephone, Dow Chemical, International Paper, Auto Car, Paramount Pictures, Warner Bros., and 20th Century-Fox.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed. Corporate bonds were steady. U. S. governments in the over the counter market were also steady.

Teachers College To Ask State For $700,000 In Buildings

Dormitories Dining Hall Are Sought

Planners To Visit School July 28 For Study Of Proposals

Members of the State Planning Commission will come here July 28 to discuss more than $700,000 worth of proposed construction at Frostburg State Teachers College.

The commission will meet with Miss Lillian C. Compton, college president, and other officials of the school. Members of the commission also will inspect the present college facilities.

Miss Compton said she will ask the commission to recommend appropriation of funds next year for these projects:

1. A men's residence hall to house 75 resident male students. The college now has 50 resident males and no dormitory.

2. A second residence hall for women, to house about 75 students. The present dormitory is overcrowded.

3. A central dining hall for all students. The present dining room is on the first floor of the women's residence hall.

Miss Compton, who said she listed the projects in the order of their importance, declared all are urgently needed.

The State Board of Education already has approved the projects and has asked the Planning Commission to study the proposals.

In Budget Next Year

If the Planning Commission approves, it will recommend to Governor Theodore R. McKeldin that money for the work be included in his budget for next year. If the Governor agreed, the matter then would be up to the Legislature.

Miss Compton said members of the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly have indicated their approval of the construction.

At present, the 50 or so resident male students at the college live in private homes in Frostburg, since the college has no facilities for housing them.

About 100 women students are living in the women's residence hall each year. It was designed for 80.

If the buildings are approved, said Miss Compton, the present dining room space in the women's residence hall could be used to enlarge the parlor, which is about the size of a living room in a private home.

Construction In 1955

Even if the money is appropriated, said Miss Compton, actual construction is not likely to begin before mid-1955.

The Legislature will not get a chance to act on the proposal, if the Governor submits it, until February 1954. Plans usually take about another year, and construction usually does not start until several months after plans are ready.

Also to be here with the Planning Commission is James L. Reid, school plants supervisor of the State Board of Education, who would decide on specifications.

The Frostburg college now is in the midst of a million-dollar-plus building program. Construction of a $750,000 auditorium and physical education building will begin next week, and a $400,000 library is nearing completion.

Meeting Is Deferred

A conference planned Monday morning between the Mayor and Council and C. and P. telephone company officials to discuss a city switchboard survey has been deferred, city officials said, due to the absence of one of the company's engineers.

It's A Family Contest

40-Hour Week Is Included In Pact

Across-the-board wage increases and a 40-hour week are provided for members of Local 886, Retail Clerks Union (AFL) employed in American Stores of this area in a new agreement reached this week.

A rest period is provided for all workers in the morning and afternoon in the new pact.

Vacations with pay for both full and part time employes is provided according to seniority and length of service with the company.

School Rewiring Bids Offered By Three Firms

Maryland Electric Submits Low Price

The Maryland Electric Company, 174 North Centre Street, yesterday submitted low bids for the rewiring of Pennsylvania Avenue and East Side Schools.

Bids from three downtown Cumberland firms were opened yesterday afternoon by Superintendent of School Ralph R. Webster and Joseph T. Downey, supervisor of maintenance for the county schools.

Two Methods

The Board of Education has requested bids on two methods of wiring, one with incandescent fixtures and the other with fluorescent.

With incandescent fixtures the Maryland Electric Company quoted a price of $11,128.70 on the Pennsylvania Avenue School job and $4,690.10 at East Side School. The total of the two bids was $15,818.80. With fluorescent fixtures the Maryland Electric Company also was low but its bid with that method was almost twice the incandescent prize. The figures were $21,892.40 at Pennsylvania Avenue and $8,469.70 as East Side.

The other bids:

Queen City Electric Company, 158 Frederick Street, Pennsylvania Avenue School, $18,550 with incandescent fixtures and $29,280 with fluorescent fixtures; East Side School, $6,450 with incandescent fixtures and $11,220 with fluorescent fixtures; Sterling Electric Company, Inc., 100 North Centre Street, Pennsylvania Avenue School, $18,775 with incandescent fixtures and $29,700 with fluorescent fixtures; East Side School, $6,725 with incandescent fixtures and $11,400 with fluorescent fixtures.

The work will include new service and switchgear, feeders, lighting panels, circuit wiring and fixtures. At Pennsylvania Avenue there are 33 classrooms, offices and an auditorium to be rewired. At East Side the project includes 13 classrooms, an office and auditorium.

Webster said the bids will be discussed by the Board of Education at its meeting Monday afternoon and a decision is expected then on which of the two methods will be accepted.

Legionnaires Would Screen School Books

Propose Study Group To Weed Out Texts Of Subversive Material

BALTIMORE, July 10 (AP)—Maryland legionnaires today endorsed a proposal that a national committee screen school textbooks for subversive material and deny federal funds to educational institutions which don't accept the recommendations.

The resolution adopted without debate at the convention of the American Legion also would cut off funds to states which don't require their teachers to take loyalty oaths.

Dr. Pullen Comments

The only comment came after adoption from Dr. Thomas J. Pullen, state school superintendent.

"If I wished to destroy this country the first thing I'd do would be to undermine the confidence of those in whose charge we have placed our children," he told his fellow legionnaires.

"All of our public schools, all of our institutions of learning are dedicated to the principle that we are to preserve our American way of life and our system of government."

Maryland school teachers along with all other state employes are required to sign a loyalty oath.

"Some textbooks and courses of study in some institutions of learning are known to be subversive in text and calculated to discredit our American philosophy of life under our form of government and constitution," states the resolution.

Propose Standards

It proposed that standards for books and courses be established by "a national committee of recognized and outstanding citizens designated by the executive branch."

The convention also approved a resolution to bring the USS Constellation to Baltimore and restore it as a national shrine. The frigate built here in 1797 now is rotting away in Boston harbor and it has been proposed to junk it.

The legionnaires and members of their auxiliary went parading tonight through downtown Baltimore with 35 musical units. Eleven drum and bugle corps also competed in drilling at the Fifth Regiment Armory.

$4,546 Awarded In Judgments

Judgments by default amounting to $4,546.50 for a Flintstone man and his wife for injuries she sustained in a traffic accident on Baltimore Pike were awarded yesterday by Associate Judge George Henderson in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Harriett A. Robosson, RFD 2, Flintstone, who contends she sustained permanent injuries to her head and legs in the accident three miles east of Cumberland on Route 40 October 22, 1951, was awarded $4,000 damages in her $10,000 suit.

Her husband, Thomas P. Robosson, was awarded $546.50 in his $5,000 suit brought for his wife's doctor and hospital bills, other expenses and loss of her services. Defendant in both suits was George Leroy Stallings, this city, whose car was involved in the collision with the Robosson's vehicle.

The Robossons' attorney, Earl E. Manges, moved for judgments by default because Stallings failed to file a plea in the two suits. Both motions were granted by Judge Henderson.

Salesman To Be Tried Today On Forgery Charge

A criminal information charging Tom A. Stoner, 23-year-old transient magazine salesman, with forging a $28 check which he cashed in a Frostburg service station, was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Filed with the information was a petition from Stoner, a resident of South Whitley, Ind., waiving his right to indictment by the grand jury and asking for an immediate trial by court.

Assistant State's Attorney James Getty said that Stoner will be tried at 10 o'clock this morning.

Stoner was arrested by State Troopers Patrick W. Stakem and Joseph V. Stakem after he cashed a $28 check at Leslie W. Fair's service station. The check bore the name of Vivian Robertson but the Frostburg bank on which the check was drawn said she had no account there.

The troopers disclosed that Stoner kept only $7 of the $28 obtained with the check. They said that he turned the rest in to his employer, the Periodical Sales Company of Chicago, to make his sales record look better.

Stoner has been in the County Jail since June 24.

Also confined there is Walter Loman Hodil, 21, Buffalo, N. Y., who was employed by the same company as Stoner. He is accused of breaking into three Eckhart homes.

Court Probates Yeager's Will

The will of George Yeager, who was the oldest employe of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company at the time of his death June 19, was admitted to probate yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

Yeager, who lived at 74 Greene Street, was 76 when he died. He was a special policeman for the tire company.

His estate was divided equally among his four children. They are Raymond F. Yeager, Royal Oak, Mich.; Bernard G. Yeager and John J. Yeager, both of this city; and Mrs. Peter Kreigh, Atlanta, Ga. Bernard G. Yeager qualified as executor of the estate under a $200 bond. The will, dated November 17, 1944, also left $200 to SS. Peter and Paul's Catholic Church for masses.

Waterworks Dedication Wednesday

Officials Of Three States Are Invited To Attend Opening

Top health department and waterworks officials of Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia have been invited to attend the dedication of Cumberland's modernized filtration plant at Lake Gordon next Wednesday afternoon.

The ceremony, according to William J. Edwards, commissioner of water and electric light, will be held at 2 p. m. at the new water treating facilities.

The facilities to be dedicated include six new filters, of modern construction, built by the George F. Hazelwood Company under a $237,210 contract.

Modernization of the chemical house, clearwell repairs and modernization and engineering costs bring the total project to about $320,000.

Other Work Slated

Another $200,000 is to be spent by the city in modernizing its present 12 filters.

The new filters, each of which will filter 1,000,000 gallons of water a day, will boost the plant's capacity to 18 million gallons daily—enough extra to provide for future industrial expansion.

Commissioner Edwards said city officials hope to have as many citizens as possible attend the ceremonies and inspect the new facilities.

Formal invitations have been sent by the city to the following:

J. Raymond Hoffert, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Sanitary Engineering, Camp Hill,, Pa.; L. D. Matter, division sanitary engineer, Harrisburg, Pa.; Louis K. Scheffer, district engineer, Harrisburg; Judge Richard C. Snyder, former attorney of the Evitts Creek Water Company, Bedford, Pa.; Dr. Norman A. Timmins, Bedford County medical director, Bedford; Charles M. Koontz, attorney for the water company, and Francis E. Daniels, chief chemist for the Pennsylvania Board of Health, Harrisburg, Pa.

To Represent State

Among the Maryland officials who have been urged to attend are Harry B. Shaw, Hyattsville, chief engineer of the Washington Suburban water district; Paul L. Holland, director of public works, Baltimore; John B. Fulk, director of public works, Towson.

Charles B. Wheeler, chief engineer, Baltimore County district, Towson; Richard C. Willson, water department superintendent, Hagerstown; Joseph S. Strohmeyer, water engineer, Baltimore.

Dr Robert H. Riley, director; George L. Hall, chief engineer, Dr. N. H. Dyer, director, and H. K. Gidley, sanitary engineering director, all of the Maryland State Board of Health, Baltimore.

Judge J. E. Nethken, of the West Virginia Public Service Commission, and mayors of nearby West Virginia communities have also been invited.

Others invited include Francis E. Daniels, chief chemist of the Pennsylvania Board of Health; Victor W. Sairre, of the Maryland-Delaware Water and Sewerage Association, Wilmington, Del.; W. McLean Bingley, Holmes Orgain, sanitary engineers of the State Board of Health, Baltimore.

Invitations have also been extended to officials of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation, both major users of Cumberland water, and Owen E. Hitchins, of the Tri-State Mine and Mill Supply Company

Jack Donald Evans, 17, of 217 Greene Street, was "resting comfortably" last night at Sacred Heart Hospital, where he was admitted Thursday evening after his motorcycle collided with a car at LaVale. He has a possible fracture of the ankle and brush burns.

Entomologist Urges Disposal Of Breeding Places For Flies

All the fly sprays on the market won't solve your housefly problem unless you've first disposed of all possible breeding places.

"This is the first and great commandment," according to T. L. Bissell, extension entomologist, University of Maryland. As long as you had bad conditions, you're going to have flies.

Garbage and all kinds of animal wastes make perfect breeding spots for the pests. If you've no other way of getting rid of your garbage, burn or bury it. Then, be sure to wash your garbage can regularly. Keep it tightly covered and where it can't be overturned.

In addition to sanitation, it takes good screening and spraying to control flies. Bissell suggests residual spraying on walls and space spraying. Insects pick up the poison of residual spray as they light on it. Space spraying kills only the insects that are flying around at the time.

You'll find that residual sprays work most satisfactorily on porch walls and screens. They're particularly good for spraying outbuildings such as hen houses and woodsheds.

For residual spraying Bissell recommends methoxychlor or lindane. These are harmless to people and animals. Mix 1½ pounds of 50 percent methoxychlor powder with three gallons of water. Or ½ pound of 25 percent lindane with three gallons of water. On the walls of a covered porch where rain doesn't hit, these sprays can be effective for three to four weeks.

Space sprays are temporary but effective for the time being. For a household spray, use pyrethrum mist or DDT. You'll need to use caution against spraying near food, cooking utensils, or stove.

Medal Of Honor Is Awarded To Ridgeley Marine Sergeant

The nation's top military award, the Medal of Honor, has been awarded posthumously to a Ridgeley, W. Va., Marine sergeant who was killed in Korea July 3, 1952, because he placed the safety of his men above his own.

He is Sgt. William E. Shuck, Jr., 26-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Shuck, Sr., 44 Carpenter Avenue, Ridgeley, and is the second Cumberland area man to receive the Medal of Honor.

The section's first Medal of Honor winner was Staff Sgt. J. Edward Kelley, son of Mrs. and the late J. N. Kelley of Keyser.

Sgt. Kelley was killed on January 31, 1945, while fighting with the 78th Division during World War II.

Was War Veteran

Sgt. Shuck was in the Navy during World War II from September 21, 1944, following graduation from Ridgeley High School, until his discharge in July of 1946.

According to his mother, one morning in 1947 after getting up and finishing breakfast he left home, returned a short time later and said that he had joined the Marines.

He entered the Marine Corps, November 14, 1947, received basic training at Parris Island, S. C., and was sent overseas in January of 1952.

While in combat Sgt. Shuck led his machinegun squad for the 7th Regiment, First Marine Division, in an assault on a strongly fortified hill postion July 3, 1952. The attackers ran into heavy enemy fire.

The leader of the infantry squad which Shuck's unit was supporting fell wounded. Shuck also was hit, but he took command of both squads and led them forward.

Leads Two Attacks

Twice Shuck led his combined forces against the Communist strongpoint. Shuck was wounded a second time, but he refused to leave his men for treatment.

In the words of the official citation accompanying the award of the nation's highest military honor, Shuck "remained in the foremost position under heavy fire until assured that all dead and wounded were evacuated."

Shuck's concern for his men was foremost in his mind until the end. In the instant that he stooped to pick up one end of a stretcher on which the last wounded Marine was to be carried away, Shuck was hit and killed by a communist sniper's bullet.

"He gallantly gave his life for his country," the official citation said.

Following Sgt. Shuck's discharge from the Navy in 1946, he worked at the Kelly-Springfiel⁴ Tire Company. While attending school at Ridgeley he was an employe in the mail room of the Times and Alleganian Company.

At Ridgeley he was on the school paper and yearbook staffs.

Wife Is In Waves

Mrs. Shuck stated that her children have a "liking" for the service as her other son, Donald J. Shuck, is serving with the Navy in Norway and a daughter, Delores Ann Shuck, recently completed a yoeman's course as a Wave at the Bainbridge (Md.) Naval Training Center.

Donald has been in the Navy for five years and expects to make it his career while Delores joined the Waves in February of this year.

Sgt. Shuck was married just before he left for overseas to the former Vicki Rodi of Clearfield, Pa., who was then in the Waves.

Sgt. Shuck was a member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Ridgeley and Knobley Post 136, American Legion of Ridgeley. He served as historian of the Legion Post in 1947-48. Reburial rites were conducted by the Knobley Post September 13 of last year.

His father is employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad here.

West Virginia Cow Sets Pace For Area Butterfat Yield

Anna, a grade Guernsey owned by the Brinker Brothers, Springfield, W. Va., ran away with the June butterfat honors in Potomac Valley Dairy Herd Improvement Association as she produced 88 pounds of butterfat, an unusually high percentage of 6.6 butterfat in her 1,340 pounds of June milk.

Although Anna's record was outstanding, Wheeler W. Arnold and Harry E. Miller, supervisors, note that association-wide the milk and butterfat averages were the lowest since February.

The 786 cows tested last month averaged only 615 pounds of milk and 25.5 pounds of butterfat compared with 752 and 31 pounds in May. Only in the matter of butterfat percentage did last month's average compare favorably. The butterfat percentage of 4.14 was the highest so far this year. The previous high was May's 4.12.

Six different Tri-State area dairymen had cows in the select list of 10 top butterfat producers for June. In second place was Pee Wee, a grade Ayrshire owned by R. E. Carskadon, Burlington, W. Va., who produced 72 pounds of butterfat in 1,600 pounds of milk. In third place was a misnamed cow called Claude, a grade Holstein belonging to Carl Howsare of Bedford Valley, Pa., who yielded 71 pounds of butterfat in 1,860 pounds of milk.

Brinker Brothers not only had the champion producer, they also had two other Guernseys ranked fourth and eighth in the select roll. Carskadon had a second cow in ninth place. Paul E. Greise of Mason Road also placed two cows among the to p10. One was Pansy, an artificially-bred grade Guernsey, who ranked sixth. The other one was Sue, a grade Jersey, who was tenth.

Other dairymen with big butterfat producers were John R. Adams, Mason Road, whose Holstein rated fifth, and A. E. and D. W. Light of Pinto, who had a grade Holstein in seventh place.

The top 10 butterfat producers in June included four Guernseys, four Holsteins, an Ayrshire and a Jersey.

Teachers College To Ask State For $700,000 In Buildings

Dormitories Dining Hall Are Sought

Planners To Visit School July 28 For Study Of Proposals

Members of the State Planning Commission will come here July 28 to discuss more than $700,000 worth of proposed construction at Frostburg State Teachers College.

The commission will meet with Miss Lillian C. Compton, college president, and other officials of the school. Members of the commission also will inspect the present college facilities.

Miss Compton said she will ask the commission to recommend appropriation of funds next year for these projects:

1. A men's residence hall to house 75 resident male students. The college now has 50 resident males and no dormitory.

2. A second residence hall for women, to house about 75 students. The present dormitory is overcrowded.

3. A central dining hall for all students. The present dining room is on the first floor of the women's residence hall.

Miss Compton, who said she listed the projects in the order of their importance, declared all are urgently needed.

The State Board of Education already has approved the projects and has asked the Planning Commission to study the proposals.

In Budget Next Year

If the Planning Commission approves, it will recommend to Governor Theodore R. McKeldin that money for the work be included in his budget for next year. If the Governor agreed, the matter then would be up to the Legislature.

Miss Compton said members of the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly have indicated their approval of the construction.

At present, the 50 or so resident male students at the college live in private homes in Frostburg, since the college has no facilities for housing them.

About 100 women students are living in the women's residence hall each year. It was designed for 80.

If the buildings are approved, said Miss Compton, the present dining room space in the women's residence hall could be used to enlarge the parlor, which is about the size of a living room in a private home.

Construction In 1955

Even if the money is appropriated, said Miss Compton, actual construction is not likely to begin before mid-1955.

The Legislature will not get a chance to act on the proposal, if the Governor submits it, until February 1954. Plans usually take about another year, and construction usually does not start until several months after plans are ready.

Also to be here with the Planning Commission is James L. Reid, school plants supervisor of the State Board of Education, who would decide on specifications.

The Frostburg college now is in the midst of a million-dollar-plus building program. Construction of a $750,000 auditorium and physical education building will begin next week, and a $400,000 library is nearing completion.

School Rewiring Bids Offered By Three Firms

Maryland Electric Submits Low Price

The Maryland Electric Company, 174 North Centre Street, yesterday submitted low bids for the rewiring of Pennsylvania Avenue and East Side Schools.

Bids from three downtown Cumberland firms were opened yesterday afternoon by Superintendent of School Ralph R. Webster and Joseph T. Downey, supervisor of maintenance for the county schools.

Two Methods

The Board of Education has requested bids on two methods of wiring, one with incandescent fixtures and the other with fluorescent.

With incandescent fixtures the Maryland Electric Company quoted a price of $11,128.70 on the Pennsylvania Avenue School job and $4,690.10 at East Side School. The total of the two bids was $15,818.80. With fluorescent fixtures the Maryland Electric Company also was low but its bid with that method was almost twice the incandescent prize. The figures were $21,892.40 at Pennsylvania Avenue and $8,469.70 as East Side.

The other bids:

Queen City Electric Company, 158 Frederick Street, Pennsylvania Avenue School, $18,550 with incandescent fixtures and $29,280 with fluorescent fixtures; East Side School, $6,450 with incandescent fixtures and $11,220 with fluorescent fixtures; Sterling Electric Company, Inc., 100 North Centre Street, Pennsylvania Avenue School, $18,775 with incandescent fixtures and $29,700 with fluorescent fixtures; East Side School, $6,725 with incandescent fixtures and $11,400 with fluorescent fixtures.

Legionnaires Would Screen School Books

Propose Study Group To Weed Out Texts Of Subversive Material

BALTIMORE, July 10 (AP)—Maryland legionnaires today endorsed a proposal that a national committee screen school textbooks for subversive material and deny federal funds to educational institutions which don't accept the recommendations.

The resolution adopted without debate at the convention of the American Legion also would cut off funds to states which don't require their teachers to take loyalty oaths.

Dr. Pullen Comments

The only comment came after adoption from Dr. Thomas J. Pullen, state school superintendent.

"If I wished to destroy this country the first thing I'd do would be to undermine the confidence of those in whose charge we have placed our children," he told his fellow legionnaires.

"All of our public schools, all of our institutions of learning are dedicated to the principle that we are to preserve our American way of life and our system of government."

Maryland school teachers along with all other state employes are required to sign a loyalty oath.

"Some textbooks and courses of study in some institutions of learning are known to be subversive in text and calculated to discredit our American philosophy of life under our form of government and constitution," states the resolution.

Propose Standards

It proposed that standards for books and courses be established by "a national committee of recognized and outstanding citizens designated by the executive branch."

The convention also approved a resolution to bring the USS Constellation to Baltimore and restore it as a national shrine. The frigate built here in 1797 now is rotting away in Boston harbor and it has been proposed to junk it.

The legionnaires and members of their auxiliary went parading tonight through downtown Baltimore with 35 musical units. Eleven drum and bugle corps also competed in drilling at the Fifth Regiment Armory.

Salesman To Be Tried Today On Forgery Charge

A criminal information charging Tom A. Stoner, 23-year-old transient magazine salesman, with forging a $28 check which he cashed in a Frostburg service station, was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Filed with the information was a petition from Stoner, a resident of South Whitley, Ind., waiving his right to indictment by the grand jury and asking for an immediate trial by court.

Assistant State's Attorney James Getty said that Stoner will be tried at 10 o'clock this morning.

Stoner was arrested by State Troopers Patrick W. Stakem and Joseph V. Stakem after he cashed a $28 check at Leslie W. Fair's service station. The check bore the name of Vivian Robertson but the Frostburg bank on which the check was drawn said she had no account there.

The troopers disclosed that Stoner kept only $7 of the $28 obtained with the check. They said that he turned the rest in to his employer, the Periodical Sales Company of Chicago, to make his sales record look better.

Stoner has been in the County Jail since June 24.

Also confined there is Walter Loman Hodil, 21, Buffalo, N. Y., who was employed by the same company as Stoner. He is accused of breaking into three Eckhart homes.

Waterworks Dedication Wednesday

Officials Of Three States Are Invited To Attend Opening

Top health department and waterworks officials of Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia have been invited to attend the dedication of Cumberland's modernized filtration plant at Lake Gordon next Wednesday afternoon.

The ceremony, according to William J. Edwards, commissioner of water and electric light, will be held at 2 p. m. at the new water treating facilities.

The facilities to be dedicated include six new filters, of modern construction, built by the George F. Hazelwood Company under a $237,210 contract.

Modernization of the chemical house, clearwell repairs and modernization and engineering costs bring the total project to about $320,000.

Other Work Slated

Another $200,000 is to be spent by the city in modernizing its present 12 filters.

The new filters, each of which will filter 1,000,000 gallons of water a day, will boost the plant's capacity to 18 million gallons daily—enough extra to provide for future industrial expansion.

Commissioner Edwards said city officials hope to have as many citizens as possible attend the ceremonies and inspect the new facilities.

Entomologist Urges Disposal Of Breeding Places For Flies

All the fly sprays on the market won't solve your housefly problem unless you've first disposed of all possible breeding places.

"This is the first and great commandment," according to T. L. Bissell, extension entomologist, University of Maryland. As long as you had bad conditions, you're going to have flies.

Garbage and all kinds of animal wastes make perfect breeding spots for the pests. If you've no other way of getting rid of your garbage, burn or bury it. Then, be sure to wash your garbage can regularly. Keep it tightly covered and where it can't be overturned.

In addition to sanitation, it takes good screening and spraying to control flies. Bissell suggests residual spraying on walls and space spraying. Insects pick up the poison of residual spray as they light on it. Space spraying kills only the insects that are flying around at the time.

You'll find that residual sprays work most satisfactorily on porch walls and screens. They're particularly good for spraying outbuildings such as hen houses and woodsheds.

For residual spraying Bissell recommends methoxychlor or lindane. These are harmless to people and animals. Mix 1½ pounds of 50 percent methoxychlor powder with three gallons of water. Or ½ pound of 25 percent lindane with three gallons of water. On the walls of a covered porch where rain doesn't hit, these sprays can be effective for three to four weeks.

Space sprays are temporary but effective for the time being. For a household spray, use pyrethrum mist or DDT. You'll need to use caution against spraying near food, cooking utensils, or stove.

Medal Of Honor Is Awarded To Ridgeley Marine Sergeant

The nation's top military award, the Medal of Honor, has been awarded posthumously to a Ridgeley, W. Va., Marine sergeant who was killed in Korea July 3, 1952, because he placed the safety of his men above his own.

He is Sgt. William E. Shuck, Jr., 26-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Shuck, Sr., 44 Carpenter Avenue, Ridgeley, and is the second Cumberland area man to receive the Medal of Honor.

The section's first Medal of Honor winner was Staff Sgt. J. Edward Kelley, son of Mrs. and the late J. N. Kelley of Keyser.

Sgt. Kelley was killed on January 31, 1945, while fighting with the 78th Division during World War II.

Was War Veteran

Sgt. Shuck was in the Navy during World War II from September 21, 1944, following graduation from Ridgeley High School, until his discharge in July of 1946.

According to his mother, one morning in 1947 after getting up and finishing breakfast he left home, returned a short time later and said that he had joined the Marines.

He entered the Marine Corps, November 14, 1947, received basic training at Parris Island, S. C., and was sent overseas in January of 1952.

While in combat Sgt. Shuck led his machinegun squad for the 7th Regiment, First Marine Division, in an assault on a strongly fortified hill postion July 3, 1952. The attackers ran into heavy enemy fire.

The leader of the infantry squad which Shuck's unit was supporting fell wounded. Shuck also was hit, but he took command of both squads and led them forward.

Leads Two Attacks

Twice Shuck led his combined forces against the Communist strongpoint. Shuck was wounded a second time, but he refused to leave his men for treatment.

In the words of the official citation accompanying the award of the nation's highest military honor, Shuck "remained in the foremost position under heavy fire until assured that all dead and wounded were evacuated."

Shuck's concern for his men was foremost in his mind until the end. In the instant that he stooped to pick up one end of a stretcher on which the last wounded Marine was to be carried away, Shuck was hit and killed by a communist sniper's bullet.

"He gallantly gave his life for his country," the official citation said.

Following Sgt. Shuck's discharge from the Navy in 1946, he worked at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. While attending school at Ridgeley he was an employe in the mail room of the Times and Alleganian Company.

At Ridgeley he was on the school paper and yearbook staffs.

Wife Is In Waves

Mrs. Shuck stated that her children have a "liking" for the service as her other son, Donald J. Shuck, is serving with the Navy in Norway and a daughter, Delores Ann Shuck, recently completed a yoeman's course as a Wave at the Bainbridge (Md.) Naval Training Center.

Donald has been in the Navy for five years and expects to make it his career while Delores joined the Waves in February of this year.

Sgt. Shuck was married just before he left for overseas to the former Vicki Rodi of Clearfield, Pa., who was then in the Waves.

Sgt. Shuck was a member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Ridgeley and Knobley Post 136, American Legion of Ridgeley. He served as historian of the Legion Post in 1947-48. Reburial rites were conducted by the Knobley Post September 13 of last year.

His father is employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad here.

West Virginia Cow Sets Pace For Area Butterfat Yield

Anna, a grade Guernsey owned by the Brinker Brothers, Springfield, W. Va., ran away with the June butterfat honors in Potomac Valley Dairy Herd Improvement Association as she produced 88 pounds of butterfat, an unusually high percentage of 6.6 butterfat in her 1,340 pounds of June milk.

Although Anna's record was outstanding, Wheeler W. Arnold and Harry E. Miller, supervisors, note that association-wide the milk and butterfat averages were the lowest since February.

The 786 cows tested last month averaged only 615 pounds of milk and 25.5 pounds of butterfat compared with 752 and 31 pounds in May. Only in the matter of butterfat percentage did last month's average compare favorably. The butterfat percentage of 4.14 was the highest so far this year. The previous high was May's 4.12.

Six different Tri-State area dairymen had cows in the select list of 10 top butterfat producers for June. In second place was Pee Wee, a grade Ayrshire owned by R. E. Carskadon, Burlington, W. Va., who produced 72 pounds of butterfat in 1,600 pounds of milk. In third place was a misnamed cow called Claude, a grade Holstein belonging to Carl Howsare of Bedford Valley, Pa., who yielded 71 pounds of butterfat in 1,860 pounds of milk.

Brinker Brothers not only had the champion producer, they also had two other Guernseys ranked fourth and eighth in the select roll. Carskadon had a second cow in ninth place. Paul E. Greise of Mason Road also placed two cows among the to p10. One was Pansy, an artificially-bred grade Guernsey, who ranked sixth. The other one was Sue, a grade Jersey, who was tenth.

Other dairymen with big butterfat producers were John R. Adams, Mason Road, whose Holstein rated fifth, and A. E. and D. W. Light of Pinto, who had a grade Holstein in seventh place.

The top 10 butterfat producers in June included four Guernseys, four Holsteins, an Ayrshire and a Jersey.
